DISASTER OFFICE GIVEN JFK BOOST

Federal Leadership Of Civil Defense Helps Program Get Into Full Swing

(Second in a Series)

By AUSTIN SCOTT

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Disaster Office was created in 1950 to supervise state civil defense and to help combat natural disasters.

For nearly a decade, the civil defense job was hampered by lack of public interest. And in 1958, the Assembly threatened to cut off CDO's funds.

But on May 25 of this year, President John F. Kennedy gave the program a boost with his appeal to a joint session of Congress for more emphasis on civil defense.

"That speech," said Allan K. Jonas, director of CDO, "provided federal leadership, without which we couldn't function."

Now, a group of 69 scientists, lecturers, administrators and technicians coordinate California's civil defense planning from their headquarters near Sacramento.

Public interest in civil defense has increased more than 10 times in the past year, to the point where CFO can't fill all the requests for information.

In 1951, the CDO drew up a bluebook for state civil defense. This master plan gives each state agency a specific job in case of a nuclear attack.

With this plan established, CDO began meeting the four necessary steps to survival — advance warning, shelter, food and water and emergency information.

To meet the first need — advance warning — the state has a bell and lights warning system, connecting public agencies and vital industries to the California Disaster Office.

This system can warn 10.1 million Californians with the turn of a single dial.

At CDO headquarters in Sacramento, monitors can listen to the radio networks of the Highway Patrol, the Division of Forestry and other state agencies.

CDO has a direct line to the national disaster warning network and is cooperating with the federal government to perfect and extend the Conelrad AM radio system.

CDO has also been experimenting with the National Emergency Alarm Repeater, a small black box that plugs into any electrical outlet and sounds a warning on signal from the power company.

To keep a constant check on air radiation levels, the CDO operates 342 radiological monitoring stations. Every 24 hours, air samples are analyzed.

Three times a day, the weather bureau charts high-altitude wind patterns for fallout charts.

Last year the state trained 2,681 employees to operate portable radiation detection instruments. Eventually, the state hopes to train everyone who drives a state vehicle with a two-way radio to operate such equipment.

CDO keeps 16 mobile radiation laboratories and 109 radiation monitoring trailers available throughout the state.

But even with advance warning, there are only two ways to avoid being hurt by a nuclear blast. One is to be outside the

NEAT AND SLOPPY

Burglars Strike Golf Club, Homes Throughout Marin

Burglars struck the Indian Valley Golf Club near Novato and a series of homes southward to Sausalito yesterday and last night in a sudden outbreak of crime that kept sheriff's officers on the run.

The Indian Valley Golf Club lost $1,200 in cash from three cash registers, about $400 in new sports clothes, and eight bottles of bourbon in a "neat job" that looks like the work of a professional. Coins from two cigarette machines were also stolen.

Other thieves were "sloppy" intruders who left mud tracks and bedrooms in shambles in homes.

Inspectors Marco Melovich and Raymond Barton and Identification Technician Edward Klementovich found holes bored in the rear door at the golf club above Stafford Dam. Dean A. Merrick, the greenskeeper, discovered the break-in this morning. Owner of the club is Albert L. Leach of Novato.

In Kent Woodlands, Mrs. William Bentinck of 305 Evergreen Drive arrived home about 1:30 p.m. yesterday and found the bathroom screen removed. Deputy James Harris and Klementovich found dirt from shoes leading from the bathroom to the living room. Nothing appeared to be missing.

A case of whisky vanished from the home of Lester Roberts, a bookshop owner, at 90 Rancho Drive in Bel Aire. The liquor was in a hall closet. The bedroom was ransacked and left in shambles. Deputy Edmond Mauberret said the thief entered by forcing the carport door.

Gordon Wilson Russell, retired engineer of 11 Reed Ranch Road, Reedlands, told officers he was away from home only 15 minutes. When he got back about 11:30 a.m. yesterday, he found a rear window broken. Dresser drawers were pulled out, but nothing seemed to be missing.

Hub Traffic Flow Might Be Improved

San Anselmo may get smoother traffic flow at its congested Hub intersection by the first of next year under a $26,000 improvement project authorized by the city council last night.

City fathers called for bids on the job to widen and repave the intersection. Bids will be opened on Oct. 24, and work should be completed in about 60 days.

An automatic signal is not contemplated, but traffic from San Rafael toward Fairfax may be able to proceed without stopping. It is possible that traffic from Fairfax to Ross and to San Rafael may not be held up by a stop sign. A stop-sign might be needed for traffic from Ross.

One of the keys to traffic improvement will be widening of both Redhill Avenue and Sir Francis Drake to the north. This would provide at least one extra lane. During peak hours, Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will have four lanes instead of the present two.

Greenfield Avenue will be widened from Sequoia to Spring Grove Avenue. Center Boulevard will be widened and paved between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bridge street.

A traffic island on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard would provide a left turn stacking lane for cars from Fairfax.

Clean Up Ordered Muni Terrorists

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mayor George Christopher today ordered police to clean up teen-age terrorism on the city's buses and streetcars.

He was told yesterday by business agent Tom McGrath of the carmen's union that knife-wielding hoodlums were running wild on the city's transit system.

HAYDEN, FAMILY REPORTEDLY MOVE AWAY

Sterling Hayden, his wife and six children left Belvedere yesterday, reportedly to move permanently to Nantucket, Mass.

Mrs. Hayden and the youngest child left by plane. Hayden reportedly took the other children in his Volkswagen bus.

Principal Robert B. Gaw said Hayden had not notified Reed School he was transferring the children, but "they were not in attendance today."

Hayden's ex-wife, Betty DeNoon, last week lost her appeal of a court ruling which permits Hayden to take the children out of California.

Review Board's Steno Opinion Called Void

San Anselmo Board of Review recommendation that a stenographer-clerk be reinstated in her San Anselmo city hall job is "null and void and of no consequence whatsoever,' City Atty. John G. Buresh declared last night.

Buresh ruled that the Board of Review has no jurisdiction to take up the appeal of Mrs. Catherine Wolcott, who was dismissed last April because of the demotion of former City Controller Anne Grant.

If Mrs. Wolcott had been dismissed because of incompetence, misconduct, inefficiency, failure to perform her duties or not following rules and regulations, then her appeal could be taken up by the Board of Review, said the city attorney.

However, since Mrs. Wolcott was doing satisfactory work, and was relieved of her post only because of economy reasons, the Board of Review has no jurisdiction, Buresh opined. He told the city councilmen they had the right to abolish Mrs. Wolcott's job, and the council decision is final.

Attorney Harold F. Wolters, representing Mrs. Wolcott, received Buresh's opinion only last night. He said he needs some time to review the city attorney's opinion and would draft a reply by the next council meeting, set for Oct. 24.

Mrs. Wolcott, who had worked for the city about three years, lost her job in this way:

City councilmen decided Mrs. Grant could not handle the controller's job and offered her a lesser job, leaving the controller's post open. (New controller Alfred C. Kaeppel was hired last month. This left an additional person on the city administrative staff. Councilmen decided to abolish Mrs. Wolcott's position "for economy reasons."

Chico Marx Dies At 70

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Chico Marx, the piano-playing member of the zany Marx Brothers comedy team, died today.

In movies like "A Night at the Opera" and "Animal Crackers," which helped establish the brothers as huge boxoffice stars, Chico had dark bushy hair and spoke with an Italian accent.

Offstage, however, he had no accent. His real name was Leonard. And he was the eldest of the comedy trio he formed with Groucho and Harpo.

Chico, a quiet man who remained close to his brothers through his life, was married nearly three years ago to Mary DiVithas. It was his second marriage.

Rayburn Sinking; Has Pneumonia

Speaker's Condition Worsens

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Cancer-stricken House Speaker Sam Rayburn developed pneumonia today and swiftly fell into a coma. The end appeared near.

"Mr. Sam Rayburn's immediate condition has grown more serious during the night," a noon bulletin said. He is in Baylor University Medical Center.

X-RAY EXAM

"He has developed left lobar pneumonia with pleural effusions," his physicians reported. "This diagnosis was made from X-ray examinations completed today. Because of this condition, he is now considered critical."

His lung was filled with fluid and draining.

Rayburn is 79. Tests completed at Baylor Thursday showed cancer through half his body, spreading from the pancreas gland.

NO HOPE

When Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., the physician in charge announced "Mr. Democrat" had cancer, he made it clear there was no hope.

But Dr. Short and other physicians had hoped they could retard the growth with a new, experimental drug, "5 fluorouracil," directly into the viens, like a blood transfusion. He had been tolerating it well.

At the same time, the doctors had strengthened him with cortisone. He had improved so greatly that he started eating full-course meals again, sat up in bed and watched the last game of the World Series on television and discussed politics and world affairs with President Kennedy on Monday.

Then what his doctors had feared all along happened: He took a sudden turn for the worse.

Chaplain B. F. Bennett of the hospital disclosed that Rayburn had dropped into a coma. His doctors then issued a bulletin, announcing his condition was critical. His sisters,

BERT R. CORONA
Four-year contract

Superintendent Of San Rafael Schools Picked

Bert R. Corona, 40-year-old superintendent of a California rural high school district, will take over Nov. 1 as San Rafael's new superintendent of schools.

The San Rafael Board of Education by unanimous vote last night tendered a four-year contract at starting salary of $17,000 per year to Corona, after president Roderick P. Martinelli announced he was the choice of the board and a screening committee which reviewed applications of more than a score of candidates for the job.

Martinelli said today Corona plans to visit San Rafael and meet some of his staff members next week.

Corona has been superintendent of Delano Joint Union High School District in Kern and Ventura counties since 1956, also serving in the dual role of principal of the district's 1,500-student high school.

Before becoming superintendent at Delano, Corona was assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools in Hanford for four years; served a year as assistant in educational administration at University of California in Berkeley; was dean of boys three years at Edwin Markham Junior High School in San Jose, and taught three years in Frick Junior High School in Oakland.

He holds lifetime general secondary, elementary and administrative credentials.

He was born in Modesto, graduated from Modesto High School, and received his A.B. in political science, and M.A. and Ed.D. degrees in educational administration from University of California. He also took post-graduate courses in education at Stanford University.

In Delano, he has been prominent in community activities, being a past director of the

Two Officers Lead Revolt In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Two lieutenants at the head of an estimated 120 soldiers were disclosed officially today to have revolted and fled into the hills.

A government announcement said a motorized column had been sent in pursuit of the rebel group, identified as members of a mechanized unit stationed in Bogota. The troops were said to have escaped with their armored car units.

A communique identified the leader of the mutinous company as Second Lt. Enrique Escobar. He was said to have "deceived" the men under his command by telling them they were to participate in a field exercise.

Escobar was said to have freed a brother lieutenant, Alberto Cendales, being held for sedition, who joined the revolt. The government insisted that the troops involved did not know they were being involved in a "revolutionary adventure."

Rain Today, But Cloudy Tomorrow

There was fog and drizzles of rain in Marin today, but the forecast for tomorrow called only for a few clouds.

A steady sprinkle continued during the morning in the Corte Madera-Larkspur area, with traces of rain in San Rafael, north to Novato and south to Belvedere.

In Tamalpais Valley, .05 of an inch was recorded to 8 a.m., .06 at Sausalito, .04 in Mill Valley and .09 in Larkspur.

Snow will reach down to the 6,000-foot level in the Siskiyous and 7,000 feet in the Sierra tonight, the Weather Bureau predicted. There was light snow at Donner Summit today.

Small craft warnings hoisted yesterday in San Francisco Bay were lowered this morning.

Crusade Hits 11 Per Cent Mark In Marin

Marin County residents have donated $14,606 to date in the 1961 United Crusade drive, it was announced today at the first report luncheon of the current campaign, held at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera. Carroll Walker, vice-chairman, presided in the absence of chairman Douglas R. Horton.

The total collected is 11 per cent of the county quota of $131,095. It does not include an additional $6,500 received since the official figures were prepared for the meeting, Walker said.

The figures announced today include results to date in all divisions except education, in which solicitation began this week, and only one donation in the residential division, in which active work will begin next week.

In the business division, Tiburon Peninsula was the first area to exceed its quota, and the first area or group in the entire campaign to do this, Walker announced. Albert DeMello is chairman. In the Fairfax business drive, only $17 is needed to reach the quota. William Bemiss is chairman.

LINDA MARKS THE SCORE—Linda Kopperud, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kopperud of San Rafael, helps paint score to date on United Crusade scoreboard on courthouse lawn. Brother Hal Scott Kopperud, 3, watches. Linda has been chosen as Marin's "United Crusade theme girl" because of her resemblance to the child on national United Crusade posters. (Independent-Journal photo)

Early returns from the special gifts division show an increase of more than 30 per cent over donations from the same sources last year. An increase of 23 per cent in the legal group of the professional division was reported.

"These are very encouraging signs," said Walker.

Home Says Russia Finally Convinced

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko left for Moscow today with word for the Kremlin that the British government fully supports U.S. determination to defend Western interests in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the opening session of the Conservative party conference at Brighton that the Western Allies have at last convinced the Russians they will resist interference with the West's access routes to Berlin.

"If there was interference with access to West Berlin a fight would start," Home said, "and no one can say that it would not end in the ultimate disaster of the nuclear exchange. I think that we succeeded in convincing Gromyko that that situation must not be allowed to arise."

Gromyko, after outwardly cordial meetings yesterday with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Home, steadfastly maintained the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. He refused to say, however, whether the Russians would carry out their previous threat to sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Gromyko described his London talks, which followed similar meetings in the United States with President John F. Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as "very useful."

Syria Comes Up With Plan For Federation

DAMASCUS (UPI) — Syria's revolutionary leaders today proposed a 14-point program for the creation of a Pan-Arab Federation with a central legislature and joint armed forces.

The plan was broadcast by Premier Mamoun Al-Kuzbari over Damascus radio to all Arab states. It was announced jointly by the Syrian army revolutionary command and the country's provisional civilian government. Syria broke away from the three-and-half year old United Arab Republic Sept. 28.

The program would preserve the sovereignty of the individual member states but would provide for stronger unity than the existing Arab league.

Lumumba's Steps Swept By U.S. Aide

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — U.S. air attache to The Congo Col. Benjamin Matlick was made to sweep the steps of the Patrice Lumumba monument during a week-end visit to Stanleyville, it was learned here today.

The colonel was accompanying U.S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion on his first trip to Oriental Province when he and his wife went to photograph the Lumumba monument.

Gendarmes arrived and made the colonel sweep the steps leading up to the framed colored photo of Lumumba, former premier who was slain in Katanga Province.

The colonel and his wife took it as a joke.

Mrs. Matlick started laughing and told the gendarmes: "You should come to my house to get him to do the chores."

The gendarmes then also started laughing and the incident ended with everybody cheerful.

Two months ago many whites were beaten up by Africans for even approaching the monument.

College Of Marin To Get State Funds

College of Marin will receive at least $28,232 from the State Department of Education for building programs, the department announced today.

The funds, approved by the 1961 Legislature, will come from five million dollars to be divided Feb. 15 among 57 junior colleges on the basis of attendance and inversely on assessed valuation data, the department said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Flight From Island

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The 260 stunned men, women and children of Tristan da Cunha spent a night of agony on a rocky outcrop in the South Atlantic, eyeing the glow of a volcano that threatens to destroy their island homes.

The refugees fled yesterday aboard two small fishing boats from earthquakes and volcanic eruptions that began Sunday on Tristan da Cunha, a 40-square mile speck of land halfway between South Africa and South America and one of the most remote islands in the world.

The refugees fought their way through 13 miles of dangerous seas and waded ashore at Nightingale Island, a bleak, uninhabited rock a mile long and three-fourths of a mile wide, to spend the night and await a Dutch liner coming to take them to Cape Town.

Maritime Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz says he is prepared to stay several days in San Francisco in efforts to settle a Maritime strike which has tied up more than 40 ships in West Coast ports.

But Wirtz voiced little optimism for a quick settlement after meeting for two hours yesterday with representatives of the striking Masters, Mates and Pilots' Association.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. Buell Gallagher, chancellor of the state colleges, has labeled an anonymous letter accusing him of being soft on communism as a "cruel and calculated deception on the California public."

"I have been in the fight against communism for a long time. I intend to stay in this fight."

Oil Heir Convicted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Oil heir Lynn Morton, 38, faces a possible 1-10 year prison sentence for the death of his wife.

Superior Court Judge David Coleman convicted Morton of manslaughter yesterday. The trial, conducted without a jury, started Sept. 6.

Mrs. Margaret Morton, 37, the wife, died June 17 at the couple's Wilshire district home. The defense contended her death was due to falls; the prosecution attributed it to a beating.

They were killed when the big helicopter exploded and crashed.

PUC Is 50

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities commission celebrated its 50th anniversary yesterday.

The state's voters approved a constitutional amendment on Oct. 10, 1911, which established a five-man appointive commission to regulate utilities and certain transportation companies.

Since then, the commission has handed down more than 62,000 written decisions on rates, service, safety and other regulatory matters. First known as the Railroad Commission, it became the PUC in 1946.

The present commission yesterday hosted a birthday luncheon for 12 former commissioners and six former heads of staff divisions.

Novato Teachers Win Raises—$155 Average

Novato teachers last night won pay raises that will average about $155 each for the current school year.

The Novato Unified School District board set aside $34,000 to pay raises to the teachers and non-teaching personnel. Of this, the teachers' share will total about $22,000.

Teachers last night were granted 30 per cent of a pay scale increase they had asked last summer. At budget time, they were granted 25 per cent of the increase. Lumped together, the boosts provide an average of about $275 for each of the district's 143 teachers, said Supt. W. J. Smith.

Non-teaching personnel, who received no increase at budget time, were granted a five per cent hike last night.

The board also authorized selling $209,000 in bonds to bring the district up to its bonding capacity..

In other action, the board:

1. Authorized borrowing $250,000 from the county to tide the district over until tax money becomes available in December.

2. Purchased eight lots adjoining the high school site from Jean Kennedy. They will be used as a site for a future grade school, along with a portion of the high school site. Purchase price was $48,000.

3. Granted a leave of absence to Mrs. Sallie Paskow, contingent upon her receiving a Fulbright Scholarship placement in England or Japan.

Marin Man Injured In Auto Mishap

Robert John Petersen, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petersen of 480 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, was on the critical list today at Sequoia Hospital in Redwood City with injuries suffered when his car overturned Friday night.

Petersen, with Robert Bradley of San Francisco as passenger, was en route to San Francisco when his car hit a soft shoulder on Skyline Boulevard near the Half Moon Bay turnoff in San Mateo County. The car went out of control and over the bank. Bradley crawled out, but Petersen was trapped under the vehicle.

He suffered head injuries, a jaw fracture and numerous cuts and bruises.

RAYBURN

Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. Robert Bartley of Bonham, Tex., went to the hospital. Bonham, 70 miles northeast of Dallas, is Rayburn's home town.

Rayburn was first elected to Congress in 1912. He went to Washington the next year and had been re-elected every two years since from Texas' Fourth District.

He became speaker in 1940 when John Bankhead of Alabama died. With the exception of two terms when his party was not in power, he had been speaker ever since.

He was a Congressman longer than any other man in history and speaker more than twice as long as any other man. His power extended far beyond Congress.

His power in Washington was exceeded only by that of the president himself. Rayburn acknowledged his own power. He liked to say he served with presidents, not under them. He was a Democrat without reservations.

Conservation Unit Approves Purchase

Purchase of a range and pasture seeder for use by members was approved yesterday by the board of directors of the Marin County Soil Conservation District at Point Reyes Station.

Rental rates were set at $10 per day or $1 per acre, whichever is greater. Rentals will be on a "first come, first served" basis, the directors said.

Mill Valley Planners Recommend New Limit

Mill Valley planning commissioners last night recommended to the city council an amendment to the zoning ordinance to give builders more leeway in height limits of homes.

Maximum height is now 30 feet at any point. The change would allow an average building height of 30 feet.

Naturalist Talk

Vinson Brown, explorer and naturalist, will be guest speaker at a Bahai'i meeting at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 24 in the home of Mrs. Florence C. Haake at 1334 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, she said today.

Car Breaks Down, Owner Returns To Find it Stripped

A car, which broke down at the foot of White's Hill, was stripped of $90 worth of parts, the owner complained to the sheriff last night.

Mrs. Yvonne Varela of 21 Bay Road, Fairfax, said she left her 1949 car on the Woodacre side of White's Hill where the vehicle broke down Friday night. Last night, she went for the car and found it considerably lighter.

Gone were both headlights, battery, all the gasoline, and various parts from the motor. Her car was not insured.

BURGLARS

135 Yale Avenue, Homestead Valley, left his car parked for about 15 minutes at 225 California Avenue, Homestead, about 1 p.m. A thief stole $100 worth of clothes, blanket, cigarette lighter, and lunch meat he had just purchased. The only item the thief left behind was the lunch meat wrapper.

San Francisco columnist Herb Caen was luckier. He thought his gold keys and chain were stolen from his parked car in Tiburon. However, he called Deputy George Congdon yesterday to report he had found the keys. They were merely misplaced.

Teacher Injured In Auto Accident

Louis Irwin Larson, 31-year-old teacher at Novato's Hill School, was hurt when his car overturned at 8:30 o'clock last night on Grand View Avenue in Black Point near his home at 1 Day's Island.

Marin General Hospital reported his condition satisfactory today though he suffered face cuts, a broken tooth and neck injury.

Civic Affairs Unit

Twenty directors for the Marin Council of Civic Affairs will be elected at an annual meeting to be held sometime this month, but difficulties are being experienced in choosing time and place, it was revealed at a board meeting last night. Morris N. Finisy, acting chairman, said today that announcement will be made soon.

Planners Hold Goals Meeting In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Planning Commission discussed goals and objectives of its revised master plan last night, and continued a hearing on commercial densities to Tuesday.

With minor changes, the commission was in accord with the plan which shows five different densities and which was presented by planning consultant Robert Cornish.

The commission also:

1. Recommended to the city council approval of a subdivision and a variance to Joseph M. Redmond to permit him to build on four lots near 60 Greenwood Way. If the subdivision is approved by council, the city will acquire a route over Redmond's land to connect with the North Ridge.

2. Recommended to the city council approval of an amendment to the zoning ordinance to allow the city to process applications for planned unit development on lands adjacent to the city and due to be annexed.

Greenbrae Wife Scares Off Burglar

A burglar who had stolen more than $100 from a Greenbrae home was frightened away before he could finish eating a canteloupe yesterday.

Mrs. Andrew Baxes, who lives at 71 Corte Loyola, Greenbrae, with her husband and two small children, told Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark someone had entered her home yesterday while her family was away from 10 a.m. to 12:55 p.m. All drawers in the kitchen and bedroom were opened on her return, and $105 in paper money was missing from an envelope in one of the drawers.

The refrigerator door was open, with the remains of half a canteloupe in the sink. On the floor beside the doorway was a spoon and the other half of the canteloupe.

The burglar had entered by prying open a door between the garage and the house. He had locked all doors behind him when he entered the house.

ARE YOU MAKING THE OCTANE MISTAKE?

Important News For Every Car Owner Who Wants A Healthier Motor 5,000, 10,000, 20,000 Miles From Now!

The higher the Megatane rating the better your motor will run . . . and now brings you the highest Megatane rating of any leading gasoline!

Mobil

Now for the first time you can choose gasoline realistically rated to make your car run stronger, last longer, keep younger!

The Octane Mistake. Yes, Octane rating measures only 2 of the things your car needs in a gasoline . . . 2 very important qualities dealing with anti-knock. The result is that many people make the Octane Mistake . . . buy gasoline high in Octane but lacking in many of the other brilliant advances made by science. These advances can truly give you a cleaner motor, quicker starting, less stalling, more mileage and power.

Megatane measures total performance. Recognizing this Octane Mistake, Mobil engineers now measure and express gasoline quality in a rating system which enables you to judge not just Octane but the total performance of your gasoline.

This new rating system is called Megatane. It includes Octane, of course, but goes far beyond Octane to measure not just 2, but all 21, of the qualities that Mobil engineers believe should be found in today's ideal gasoline.*

Mobil gets highest Megatane ratings. Of course, the ideal Megatane rating of 21 has not yet been achieved by anyone . . . not even Mobil. But when you drive into your Mobil station, you will find new Mobil Premium that rates higher on the Megatane scale (19 out of 21) than any leading Premium. New Mobil Regular, with 16 out of 21, rates higher than any leading Regular gasoline.

At first, the difference may not be apparent to you. Your car will probably not leap like a gazelle from a standing start. But never forget this: Five, ten, twenty thousand miles from now, your motor will know the difference . . . in more mileage, less loss of power, less harmful deposits, easier starting, longer prime of life. For the higher the Megatane rating, the better your motor will run!

For details about the Megatane rating system, visit your Mobil dealer.

San Rafael School Spending Passed

The San Rafael Board of Education, finding it will have more money than expected to operate San Rafael schools this fiscal year, last night authorized spending an additional $25,000 for equipment for the two high schools.

The outlay includes $5,000 for athletic equipment and $4,000 for band uniforms for Terra Linda High, and $2,100 toward band uniforms for San Rafael High.

The district will pay the entire cost of outfitting the Terra Linda band. But half the cost of the Bulldog band's uniforms will be born by the student body.

Board member John M. Bagshaw asked whether the Terra Linda student body couldn't similarly contribute. Principal Webster Wilson replied that it wound up last year with only $160 in the treasury.

Principal Alfred N. Thomson said the San Rafael High student body has accumulated a surplus over the years, and is willing to spend $2,100 to help make the band look natty —a willingness applauded by the board members.

Wilson came up with an offer from his school that won similar applause. The Terra Linda football field can have stadium-type wooden seating for 600 to 700 persons by terracing the slope along one side at a cost of less than $1,000, he said. A. von Rotz, contractor on the Terra Linda High addition, has had the plans drawn. His superintendent and carpenter foreman will boss the job free. Parents and students will turn out on Saturdays to do the work. Von Rotz and the parents have made arrangements to get the materials wholesale. And the Carpenters Union has approved the project.

Handed such a package as that, the board members naturally voted the money.

The extra money, available, reported Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson, results from three things: (1) higher year-end balances on June 30 than predicted; (2) higher assessed valuation than predicted, and (3) passage by Congress and signing by President John F. Kennedy of a new act providing federal funds to help educate children of federal employees.

San Rafael High School District will have $98,080 more than expected; San Rafael Elementary School District, $64,433 more.

Also at last night's board of education meeting, with all members present:

1. Simpson reported hiring of Maxine Browdy as cafeteria helper at San Rafael High; Colbert Lloyd and John Christensen as janitors, and resignation of Larry Lewis as janitor at E Street School.

2. Principal Thomson announced San Rafael High has started operating a 6 p.m. "activities bus" for those who participate in afterschool activities, but plan to run it hereafter only Monday through Thursday, as there is no football practice on Friday.

3. The board authorized a contract with Stanford University's Education Department Field Service Unit for an analysis of the financial picture in both elementary and high school districts, to be done by Christmas and cost not more than $3,250.

4. Board member C. Paul Bettini reported the county had developed no master plan for McNear's Point, where a future school site will be needed, but has designated a 10-acre site for a new school in the San Quentin area, Latipac-Perini Co. has set aside two proposed elementary school sites in Marin Bay, he said. He was authorized to get approximate prices of Marin Bay sites.

5. The board voted to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors and county superintendent of schools for some guidance on what policy to follow with school children in event of a disaster.

Grade System Discussed By School Board

The question of whether San Rafael High School's grading system may be robbing some children of incentive was raised by a board of education member last night.

San Rafael and Terra Linda High schools split classes in the same subject into advanced, intermediate and slow groups. Board member Bella Aaron said one teacher told parents at San Rafael High's "back to school night" last week that only 25 per cent of students in his intermediate class could hope to get Bs, and none could get As.

"You're taking away the incentive from the great mass of students if you do this, and precluding them from getting the grades they need to enter college," said Mrs. Aaron.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson said the board several years ago decided that all the classes in a given subject should be graded on one curve. This means, he said, that the "A" and "B" students should be in the advanced group.

Principals Alfred N. Thomson of San Rafael High and Webster Wilson of Terra Linda High hastened, however, to assure the board that this does not mean a student in a lower section cannot make "A." Some of them do it, the principals said.

Mrs. Aaron wanted to be sure the teachers knew this. Thomson said he felt sure they did.

Ralph Hansen, curriculum director for the high schools, was asked for his comment.

"Most of the teachers feel they are following board policy," he said.

"I hope so," drily commented board member Rex Silvernale.

Ring Lardner Jr. Admits Being Red

NEW YORK (UPI)—Academy Award-winning screen writer Ring Lardner Jr., has admitted in a magazine article for the first time publicly that he once was a Communist. He says he is no longer a party member, however.

Lardner, writing in the Oct. 14 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, said he was a member of the Communist Party in 1947 at the time he refused to answer a question about membership put to him by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Another Swim Pool Problem Plagues Board

Another swimming pool problem welled up for the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Just as architect Carl F. Gromme informed the board that contractor Max Schenk had designated Ralph H. Murphy and Sons of San Rafael to complete the Terra Linda High School pool, the board was informed that immediate repairs must be made on the San Rafael High pool.

The plaster finish of the 13-year-old pool is disintegrating, reported Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson. He said it had been examined by a representative of Paddock Pools who reported it should be sand-blasted and re-plastered, and that perhaps some of the tile would have to be replaced. He estimated the job at $5,000.

Black algae is forming in the peeling plaster, he said.

The board instructed Simpson to get another inspection by an engineer from Paddock Pools' headquarters in San Jose and have a report and data for a bid call ready for an adjourned meeting next Tuesday at 5:30 p.m.

Architect Gromme was instructed to proceed with the necessary arrangements for completion of the Terra Linda pool, including a change order for tiling the gutters. President Roderick P. Martinelli said he would call a special meeting of the board if necessary to sign any legal documents.

Gromme said it would probably require a week or 10 days to go through the legal formalities before work could be resumed on the pool, which has been shut down since last May because of a dispute with the contractor.

A-SHELTER IS PUT TO GOOD USE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The city's civil defense director opened a series of lectures on how to build home fallout shelters. Eighteen persons showed up for the first one yesterday.

Two, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall of Woodside, told CD Director A. G. Cook they already have a shelter.

"We're using is as a wine cellar now," Marshall said.

Shareholders Will Vote On Bank Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Shareholders wil vote Nov. 28 on a proposal by Crocker-Anglo National Bank to declare a stock dividend.

Announcing the proposed dividend yesterday, the bank's president, Paul E. Hoover, said it would be payable by issuance of 942,770 shares of the bank's $10 par value stock. Each shareholder of record Nov. 28 would receive additional shares at the rate of one new share for each six then owned.

This would increase outstanding shares from 5,656,625 to 6,599,395 and capital stock from $56,566,250 to $65,993,950.

Hoover said the present annual dividend rate of $1.40 is expected to remain the same on the increased number of shares.

The dividend would not increase shareholders' equity. Crocker-Anglo stock was quoted between $66.75 and $71.75 a share yesterday.

Santa Fe's W.P. Plans Questioned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Santa Fe Railway's plans for the Western Pacific Railroad were questioned today during Interstate Commerce Commission hearings to determine the future of Western Pacific.

Santa Fe and Southern Pacific are seeking control of the smaller company, and some parties in the case believe W.P. should remain an independent line.

Attorneys opposing Santa Fe control sought admissions yesterday from Leo C. Hudson, a Santa Fe official, that the firm's self interest might require diversion of traffic from the Utah to the Arizona gateway.

Santa Fe now advertises its ability to send freight "all the way with Santa Fe" from San Francisco to Chicago via Arizona. Opponents claim that it would avoid shipments on Western Pacific lines on the midcontinental route through Utah because it then would be required to split revenues with other railroads.

Golf Club Theft

The Pro Shop at the Marin Golf and Country Club was entered Monday and approximately $200 in cash and an undetermined amount of clothing and equipment taken, Rod Williams, assistant professional at the club, reported to Novato police.

30-Hour Week Is Opposed By Goldberg

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg has said that the administration would not favor a compulsory 30-hour work week to combat unemployment.

Speaking at the Illinois AFL-CIO convention here yesterday Goldberg predicted the Kennedy administration probably will take further steps to cut unemployment. But he said it would oppose the 30-hour week at present because "we feel the first job is to put everybody back to work at 40 hours."

Later this week the convention is scheduled to vote on a resolution favoring a shorter work week.

"We feel it wouldn't be practical today to reduce the work week," Goldberg said. "We have a strong conviction that this is necessary to protect production, jobs and to be sure our goods compete in the world market while we are in competition with countries having 45, 48 or even higher work weeks."

Labor Seems Unwilling To Fight Hoffa

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor's leadership, having refused to take back the expelled Teamsters Union, appeared equally unwilling today to declare open war on James R. Hoffa's controversial truck drivers organization.

After overwhelmingly voting down a proposal to end a four-year Teamsters exile for alleged corruption, the AFL-CIO Executive Council met to consider forming a rival union to try to snatch members away from Hoffa.

Hoffa replied to the challenge at Portland, Ore., saying: "We'll meet them anywhere, any time, and we'll come out on top."

Hoffa told the Western Conference of the Teamsters Union that the Teamsters are not asking to return to the AFL-CIO.

If they ever did so, he added, it would be with the understanding that they could run their own affairs and organize workers without worrying about jurisdiction.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, made a counterdrive against the 1.5 million-member Teamsters look attractive by reporting here that about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals have applied to quit Hoffa's outfit and come into the main labor federation.

However, Meany's fellow AFL-CIO chiefs seem to have little appetite for an all-out fight against Hoffa's powerful Teamsters.

Redwood President

Ed Rudloff was elected president of the Redwood High School freshman class in elections last week. A runoff election for vice president between Bonnie Banducci and Vern Gulbransen elected Miss Banducci. Also elected were Poppy Eager, secretary, and Josette Sommers, treasurer.

Veterans' Tax Exemptions Decline Despite Rapid Population Growth

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Despite California's rapid population growth, the number of veterans getting property tax exemption has declined for the second year in a row, the Board of Equalization reported today.

The board said 1,136,486 veterans qualified on the 1961 assessment rolls. That's 32,475 fewer than last year, and 58,771 fewer than in 1959.

Under state law, veterans can get tax exemption on up to $1,000 in assessed value, unless they own property assessed at more than $5,000.

A board spokesman said the decline in number of veterans getting the exemption can be accounted for by three factors:

1. Grand jury investigations showed that some assessors were not checking claims of veterans who owned more than $5,000 worth of property, and were thus disqualified.

2. Older veterans have accumulated more property, and thus lost their exemption.

3. Many newcomer vets don't own enough property to claim the exemption.

The big drop in the number of exemptions has occurred in Los Angeles County, which had 553,899 in 1959, 518,536 last year, and only 485,722 this year.

Seventeen other counties also reported fewer veterans exemptions this year including Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Marin, Orange, Riverside, San Francisco and San Joaquin.

Property Worth $19,662,000 Exempt From Taxes In 1961

Marin County property assessed at $19,662,000 was exempt from taxation during 1961 because it was owned by war veterans, churches, private colleges or welfare organizations.

According to Paul R. Leake, third district member of the State Board of Equalization, 86 churches in Marin have an assessed valuation of $1,606,000; five colleges are valued at $2,506,000; 51 welfare properties are assessed at $2,948,000; 10,164 veterans own property valued at $9,654,000; two hospitals are assessed at $148,000; 22 charitable properties total $976,000; eight religious properties other than churches are assessed at $254,000; 19 schools under college level are assessed at $1,570,000.

Statewide, property assessed at $1,587,731,000 was tax exempt. The amount represented a gain of 41½ million dollars or 2.7 per cent over the 1960 figure, Leake said.

The total number of qualifying veterans decreased by 32,475 in 1961 as compared to 1960. The total number of veterans' exemptions, which account for the major portion of all enrolled exemptions, was $1,136,486.

Ways, Means Committee Chief Named

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) who successfully steered the Democratic reappointment plan through the legislature this year, today was named chairman of the lower house's powerful Ways and Means Committee.

Crown's appointment was made by the man who preceded him as Ways and Means chairman, Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

Gov. Edmund G. Brown indicated his approval of Crown's selection as head of the body that passes on all legislation involving state spending.

Unruh said Crown earned his appointment by his handling of the bills that rearranged the state's congressional and Assembly districts. He was chairman of the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee.

The plan is expected to increase Democratic control of the Assembly and give the Democrats eight extra seats in the House of Representatives.

Teacher Denies Charges Of Leaving Baby

ZEPHYR COVE, Nev. (UPI)—A geology professor at San Jose State College has denied charges by Nevada authorities that he and his wife left their 5-month-old son unattended in an auto while they visited Stateline casinos during the weekend.

Robert J. Foster, 32, admitted leaving the infant in the car for more than two hours, but said yesterday his wife, Joan, 30, went to the car twice to feed the infant.

After that, Foster said, he and his wife and their year-and-a-half old daughter visited a restaurant for half an hour. Mrs. Foster checked on young Ralph twice again.

He said the third time his wife went to the car, the baby was gone.

Douglas County sheriff's deputies had taken the infant to their office. When the Fosters showed up at the station, they were arrested.

The Karankawa Indians, who lived on Padre Island off the coast of Texas more than 150 years ago, were cannibals.

West Marin School Stand Is Backed

A resolution opposing inclusion of West Marin Elementary School District in unification of Tomales High School District was adopted last night by the board of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce at Point Reyes Station.

The action supported a similar resolution adopted Monday night by the district board.

Loss of local control and inconvenience to children who would have to travel long distances to Tomales were among arguments put before last night's meeting. Members said residents of Point Reyes Station, Stinson Beach and Bolinas would prefer a high school at some such central point as Olema.

Directing that its resolution be sent to the state Board of Education, the board added that its action was based partly on the point that with more than half the school children of the whole proposed unified district, and nearly half the tax-basis evaluation, West Marin would have only two votes on a board of seven persons governing a unified district.

Protest Urged Against Humane Shelter Plans

Letters of protest against the Marin County Humane Society's proposed animal shelter in the Terra Linda area were urged last night by the Terra Linda Community Services District board.

The shelter, which would occupy 15 acres on the former Fagundes Ranch, is within about 200 feet of homes in the area. According to board members, the noise would be unbearable for those living that close.

The request for approval of the shelter is scheduled for a public hearing before the San Rafael Planning Commission on Oct. 24.

The Terra Linda Fire Department will present to the board meeting on Oct. 24 specifications for a 1,250-gallon pumper truck. Bids will be called for immediately if approved by the directors.

The directors last night retained the San Francisco design firm of Strandgaard and Mogenson to draw up plans for an addition to the fire house which would house the new truck and two men. The department now has one fulltime paid fireman, but plans to hire another at the beginning of the year.

Kennedy Calls Meeting On Problems In Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy summoned his diplomatic and military high command to the White House today for an unannounced conference dealing with developments in Southeast Asia.

The meeting got underway shortly before noon, some four hours before Kennedy's scheduled news conference.

Present at the Southeast Asia discussion were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Although the White House declined to say why the meeting was called, other sources said it dealt with Southeast Asia, and most likely with developments in Laos and South Viet Nam.

At the same time the White House announced that retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former commander of U.S. and United Nations Forces in the Korean War, is returning to duty in the Pentagon.

He has agreed to serve as a part-time consultant to Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr.

The White House meeting on Southeast Asia was believed to have discussed reports from the recent meeting of military staff advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Despite the mounting scale of fighting in South Viet Nam, the State Department said yesterday there are no plans at present to send U.S. troops there.

Larkspur Planning Commission postponed its meeting last night when a quorum failed to attend. Next scheduled meeting of the commissioners is on Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

HOFFA RE-INDICTED FOR MAIL FRAUD

Charge Involves Alleged Misuse Of Union Funds In Florida 'Model City'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa was re-indicted today on mail fraud charges involving alleged misuse of union funds in a Florida deal, the Justice Department announced.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy announced return of a 16-count indictment against Hoffa by a federal grand jury at Orlando, Fla.

An earlier 12-count indictment against Hoffa was dismissed on July 12 on grounds that the grand jury had been improperly selected.

Also named as a defendant in today's indictment was Robert E. McCarthy, Jr., a Detroit banking executive, the department said.

Hoffa and McCarthy were indicted on mail fraud charges involving alleged use of more than $500,000 in Teamsters Union funds to develop a "model city" near Cape Canaveral.

The government has charged that mail fraud was involved because Hoffa and McCarthy falsely stated that the "Sun Valley" real estate project was union-sponsored when actually it was privately owned.

The original indictment handed down in December, 1960, named a third defendant — Henry Lower, former president of a Detroit Teamsters local who died last Aug. 27.

Orlando federal district Judge Joseph P. Lieb dismissed that indictment on grounds that the jurors had been improperly selected from a state voter registration list that included no Negroes and no women.

Miller To Discuss Aid Purchasing

Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) will explain federal aid in purchasing areas for park use to the Larkspur Recreation Commission at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The recreation commission is considering purchase of some of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property in Larkspur if the city can get federal aid.

Also at tonight's meeting will be Oliver Everett, Federal Housing Administration regional assistant director for special programs, who will discuss the Federal Housing Act of 1961.

State Disaster Office Given Kennedy Boost target area, and the other is to be protected.

California officials have rejected evacuation as too time consuming. They say shelter is perhaps the most important civil defense need.

There is no known protection for persons in an area directly under a nuclear blast, but the number killed by the blast will be small compared to those killed by fallout.

Dust and dirt sucked into the bomb's fireball and made radioactive. This dust drifts for thousands of miles on prevailing winds, slowly sifting to the ground.

A hole in the ground with three feet of dirt on top will give almost complete protection, but radiation experts say people will have to remain in shelters two weeks or more. They must have air, food and water.

CDO officials note that family shelters suitable for long-term occupancy cost $200 and up per person. Few families have $800 to $4,000 to invest in a shelter.

Jonas thinks the state has a better plan in community shelters built to house 100 people or more, and paid for partly with federal funds.

Such shelters could be built under schools and other public buildings for as little as $50 per person, Jonas said. They could house instruments, communications equipment, medical facilities and food — impossible in a small shelter.

Jonas proposes schools as the center of civil defense, because they are close to everyone, and in an attack there would be medical facilities and teachers accustomed to handling people on hand.

School shelters could be used as extra rooms when there's no danger of war.

The state has started a survey of all public buildings to see if they're fit for shelters. The state is meeting the need for emergency food supplies by stockpiling surplus wheat in various parts of the state.

CDO has asked the federal government for 30 billion bushels of wheat which, when combined with other food, will feed Californians for one year without outside help.

Jonas estimates that right now, California has a three to four months supply of food.

At the start of this year, CDO had 140 emergency hospital units spotted throughout the state. Supplies of pain-killing drugs and antibotics are being stockpiled in Sacramento, and CDO is working on antidotes to biological and chemical warfare.

The need for emergency information will be met largely through existing warning communications, plus a new statewide microwave network that would allow communications even though blasts had severed telephone and wire lines.

Bret Harte Area Water Supply Off Five Hours

Shops in the Bret Harte Shopping Center at Irwin Street and Woodland Avenue as well as about 100 households in the Bret Harte area of San Rafael suffered nearly a five-hour cut in water supply due to a main feed line break this morning.

Though nearby, the Davidson School on Woodland Avenue and Lindaro Street was not affected.

The Marin Municipal Water District reported that about 6:30 a.m. there was an eight-foot split in an eight-inch cast iron line near the shopping center, on Woodland Avenue close to Irwin Street intersection.

Water district workers had to dig a 10-foot trench in Woodland Avenue three feet deep to cut out the broken section of pipe and replace it. Water was restored at 10:50 a.m.

Three Burglaries Are Reported To Sausalito Police

Three burglaries were reported to Sausalito police yesterday, the largest being that of 10 large photographs worth $500 from aero photographers at Gate 5, Marinship.

John Van Wart told officers he believed the photographs had been taken from the office during the day. Five photographs measured 40 by 60 inches and five 30 by 40 inches. Each was valued at $50.

Mrs. W. K. McKnott of 37 Miller Avenue reported that one-half case of rum and one-half case of whisky were taken at 37 Miller Avenue Sunday night.

Barbara Brittain of 66 Edwards Avenue reported her home was broken into sometime between 9 and 11:30 a.m. yesterday, dresser drawers ransacked and small change was taken. Entry was made by prying open a door with a screwdriver.

A Mill Valley auto mechanic, 27-year-old Richard D. Selesky, has begun a 90-day sentence in Marin County Jail with work furlough privileges after pleading guilty to possessing marijuana.

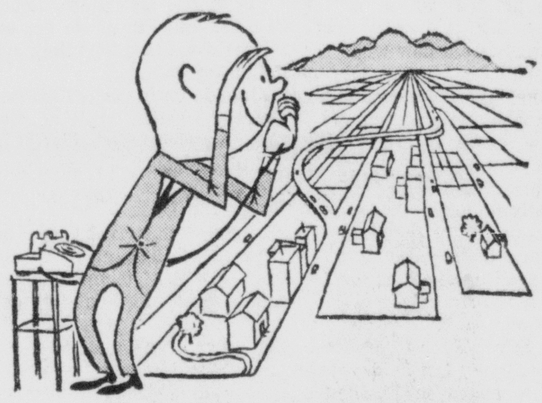

Selesky also was put on three years probation yesterday by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Superior Court. He admitted supplying marijuana found growing last June 26 in 46 containers on the roof over the kitchen of a house in Corte Madera.

THE BAY AREA

Over the years, cities and towns in the Bay Area have grown into a giant community.

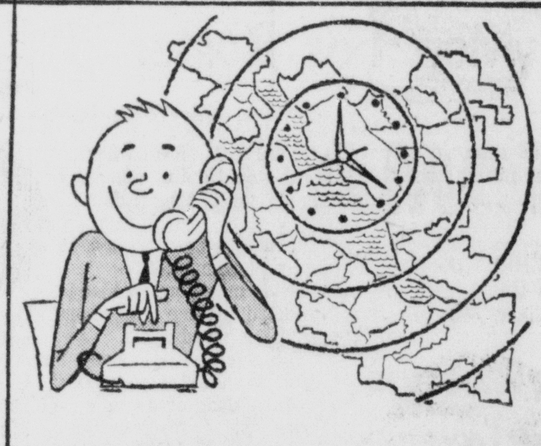

And you're dialing more and more places in this expanding Metropolitan Area.

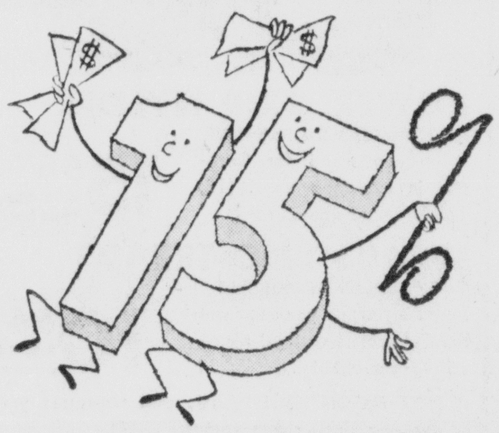

This is a metropolitan calling area larger than the state of Rhode Island.

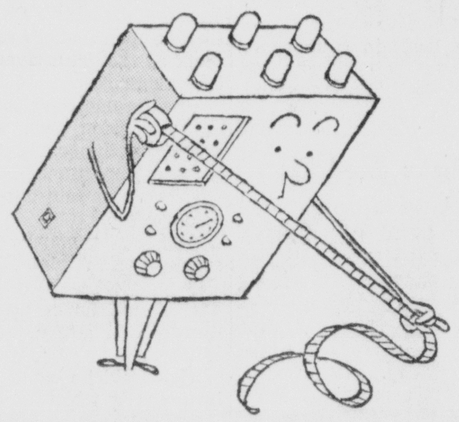

But today you can call within this area for less than long distance rates.

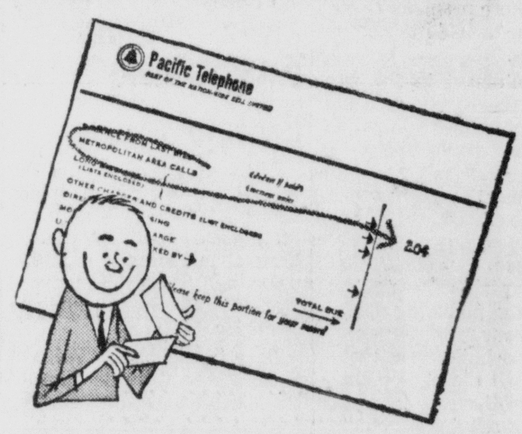

These calls are measured in message units, which show how far you call and how long you talk.

A message-unit call costs 15% less than Long Distance for the same time and distance.

The reason is that high-speed electronic equipment records these message units . . .

. . . and we combine them on your bill instead of itemizing each call.

This costs less for bookkeeping than it would to itemize each call separately.

So you pay less for message-unit calls dialed anywhere within one of the broadest communities in the U.S.

If you need your Metropolitan Area calls itemized because you want a breakdown of costs for business purposes or any other reason—then place them with the Operator. Tell her to put them through as station-to-station calls. The charges will appear separately on your bill, without the 15% saving.

Two Of Football's Big Coaches Disbelieve Soundness Of 'Shotgun'

HANLEY

At least two of football's most respected coaches, Clark Shaughnessy and Buck Shaw, do not believe the 49er Shotgun is a sound formation.

This may come as a surprise to more than 100,000 fans who saw the Shotgun at its best, first in Detroit's Briggs Stadium two weeks ago and last Sunday in Kezar Stadium.

In fairness to Shaughnessy his evaluation of the Shotgun was made this spring during a dinner in his honor at the Polo Club. He may have revised his opinion since Red Hickey equipped the Shotgun with three quarterback barrels—John Brodie, Bill Kilmer and Bobby Waters.

However, during his May visit Shaughnessy compared the Shotgun to Dutch Myers' old formation at Texas Christian and said it was effecitve last year only because of "the surprise element."

When asked why not a surprise formation each week if that is the answer to set defenses, Shaughnessy replied "there's no time to build them —it's amazing how little time there is for practice in pro football — something like four hours a week."

Shaughnessy, a recognized coaching genius who introduced the T formation to Stanford in 1940 and started the Indians on a series of trips to the Rose Bowl and Frankie Albert to fame and fortune, now is the defense master of the Chicago Bears. He may prove two weeks from now when the 49ers and Bears meet in Chicago that his spring evaluation of the Shotgun was right.

Shaw, having retired last season as a world champion with his Philadelphia Eagles, naturally no longer has a practical opportunity to prove his statement that the Shotgun "is not a good basic formation because it is primarily a passing formation."

The Silver Fox made that statement only last Friday during a luncheon in his honor at the Touchdown Club. Coming as it did just 48 hours before Kilmer, Waters—and even Brodie—ran rather effectively against the Rams, Shaw's statement certainly left some of Sunday's Kezar customers puzzled.

Shaw, however, is right. The Shotgun primarily is a passing formation. But the exceptional running ability of the talented Kilmer, and the above-average foot work of Waters, give it the necessary deception. That's what Hickey says and that's the way it has worked in the back-to-back shutouts of Detroit and Los Angeles.

And as for "the surprise element" Hickey believes is essential 14 Sundays in a row to be an NFL winner, the redhead personally plans to provide it. How? Not by any trick plays but proper selection of the right ones from the 49er repertoire. And what are the right ones?

"Frankly," says the redhead, "I don't know until we get on the field and see how they are defensing us."

Outside stuff worked against Detroit, inside stuff against Los Angeles, particularly a tight little squeeze pass behind the scrimmage line to J. D. Smith and C. R. Roberts from whatever quarterback Hickey happened to have on the firing line at the moment. The squeeze pass, incidentally, was ready for use against Detroit but wasn't used once because rollouts and sweeps were the answer to a jammed interior Lion defense.

49ers In Search For Two Men For Roster

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers, two below the league maximum of 36 players, were admittedly searching for a lineman and a back today.

The openings occurred after rookie halfback Dale Messer suffered a fractured ankle in Sunday's Los Angeles Ram game and guard Mike Magac was called back for army duty.

It was not known where the 49ers would get a replacement for Messer, but guard Mike Lopasky from West Virginia was expected to be activated as a line replacement.

Swing man Lou Cordileone is expected to step into Magac's offensive guard spot.

The 49ers have moved out front as the National Football League's leading team on offense.

The 49ers and their explosive "shotgun" attack have mustered a total of 1,470 yards through the defenses of Washington, Green Bay, Detroit and Los Angeles, the NFL's weekly statistical charts showed.

Little League In Fairfax Has Problem

The Little Leaguers of Fairfax have more problems to contend with then just winning ball games.

The equipment in the restrooms at the edge of the ball field is laying on the floor instead of being attached to the plumbing, Fairfax recreation commissioner Frank Lawrence Sr. told the city council Monday night.

"We have a problem," answered Mayor Kenneth Edgar, "because the plumbing doesn't connect to any sewer. When the building was built it was cheaper to buy all the equipment a once but we haven't been able to afford a sewage system."

"Well, we can't have a public park and not a rest room," contended Lawrence as he suggested that the cheapest solution would be that the council authorize the purchase of portable rest rooms that could be moved around Fairfax where needed.

Besides the local gas station has been complaining to the recreation commission of being inundated with little boys.

Hub Golfer Gets Ace At Las Gallinas

Herman Goldwasser of 9 Oakhill Drive, San Anselmo made an ace yesterday at the Las Gallinas Golf Course on the third hole.

Bill Bigler of Kentfield witnessed the feat which was accomplished with a nine iron, and was Goldwasser's first hole in one. He said nobody gave him any prizes. The ace gave Goldwasser a 32 on the short course, however.

Festival Will Feature Movies

Little League movies of the Twin Cities major and minor teams will be shown at the St. Patrick's Catholic Church Festival in Larkspur next Saturday and Sunday, announced Mrs. T. P. Scott, publicity chairman.

Dave Scofield, the "Voice of Kezar," narrates the film of the Marin teams in action. The festival is open to the public. The films will be shown both days at 1, 3 and 9 p.m., said Mrs. Scott.

Bears Place Stress On Aerial Defenses

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Golden Bears are concentrating on pass defense, says Coach Marv Levy, as they get ready for Saturday's Big Five opener with Washington here.

The preparation is aimed at stopping the Huskies' Pete Ohler, who last week tossed 11 passes for 188 yards, including two touchdowns and two 2-point conversions in Washington's 22-17 win over Pittsburgh.

Ducks Lose Back

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Len Casanova, coach of the University of Oregon football squad, will have to do without the services of Mel Renfro, his prize sophomore halfback, for at least three weeks.

Injuries Hit Hard At College Elevens

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

They really knock heads together at Ohio State's football drills. It's getting costly.

The seventh-ranked Buckeyes lost two men with head injuries yesterday as they went through their paces in a midweek head-knocking drill for Saturday's opening Big Ten conference clash with Illinois.

Left end Chuck Bryant had to be carried off the field on a stretcher after being knocked unconscious in a collision. Moments later left tackle Bob Vogel was forced to the sidelines when he was hit in the head. Both are expected to be ready for the Illini.

It was the same at other camps around the nation as college football's elite collided in preparation for upcoming tests, with Illinois, Michigan, Southern California, Syracuse, Missouri, Iowa and Navy among others reporting serious injuries to key personnel.

The Illini lost quarterback Mike Taliaferro for the rest of the season when the team physician ordered the signal-caller removed from the roster after checking a nerve injury in Taliaferro's neck. Fullback Mike Summers and linebacker Joe Mota did not take part in the scrimmage.

Michigan's sixth-ranked Wolverines will be shy two key linemen for their nationally televised test against fifth-ranked Michigan. First-string right guard Joe O'Donnell and replacement Lou Pavloff have not recovered from their injuries.

Southern Cal's Trojans will face eighth-ranked Notre Dame Saturday without the services of halfback Willie Brown, who has a torn ligament in his right foot. Syracuse, which meets Nebraska, learned Soph tackle John Pagliio has a broken wrist and probably is out for the year.

Quarterback Ron Taylor was sidelined with a thigh injury as Missouri worked out for its Big Eight conference opener against Oklahoma State. He may be back for the clash but halfback Gerald Stevenson definitely is lost and fullback Andy Russell remains a question mark.

Iowa's second-ranked Hawkeyes, preparing for Indiana, drilled for two hours while quarterback Wilburn Hollis watched from the bench with his arm in a cast. Others on the injured list are centers Bill Van Buren and Dayton Perry, tackle Al Hinton and halfbacks Bernie Wyatt and Larry Ferguson.

End Ed Gill will miss Navy's game with Cornell due to a virus infection, and will be replaced by sophomore Jim Campbell, who has been a stalwart on the defensive unit.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma moved Duane Cook to left tackle in place of injured Tom Cox for the Texas meeting, Nebraska may be without linemen Mickey Tingelhoff, Ed Mitchell and Bob Brown for its game against Syracuse, quarterback Sandy Stephens missed Minnesota's workout and UCLA end Mel Profit is in the hospital with an injury suffered against Ohio State.

New Team Schedules Signups

Signups will be held beginning at 5:30 o'clock tonight for the new Pop Warner football team in Novato at the residence of organizing manager Wally Hardy, 33 Orchard Way.

The Colts can use players from ages 10 through 13 who weigh up to 120 pounds, said Hardy. He said that the Novato team will schedule some practice games the remainder of this season, but will not officially be playing until next year. Fathers are invited to the signups.

Trojans Lead Big 5 Stats

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A wholesale shakeup in Big Five team statistics resulted from games last weekend.

Six of eight categories have new leaders, with Southern California grabbing first in total offense, passing and scoring.

The Trojans, losers to Iowa 35-34, have ground out 982 yards, 431 yards in the air. They have scored 62 points.

Washington's Huskies have given up the last points, 37, and trail only USC in points scored with 48. Washington also leads in rushing offense with 635 yards and rushing defense with 584 yards allowed.

UCLA leads in two departments, total defense with 676 yards allowed and passing defense with 144 yards allowed.

U.S. Picks Reed For Davis Cup Singles

ROME (AP) — David Freed, captain of the U.S. Davis Cup team, said Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., was certain to play singles against Italy in the inter-zone final starting Friday.

Until this morning, Freed had said he would choose his singles lineup from among Reed, Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif.

Indians Bracing For San Jose Speedsters

STANFORD (AP) — The Stanford Indians are squaring away their defense to meet the potent scoring threat of San Jose State's fleet backfield.

The Spartans were reported sharpening up their aerial defense as they get ready for Saturday's game here.

Cougar Scrimmage

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — A strenuous scrimmage was the lot of the Washington State Cougars yesterday as Coach Jim Sutherland worked on ways to score more touchdowns. Sutherland said he was bitterly chagrined at the Cougar's poor scoring performance to date.

Liston Signs To Fight German If He's Reinstated

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Heavyweight contender Sonny Liston and Albert Westphal of Germany have signed for a feature bout in Philadelphia Dec. 5 contingent upon Liston's reinstatement by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

At the same time, it appeared that Liston, who was suspended by the commission last summer for run-ins with the law, would be reinstated in the near future.

Al Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said last night that Liston has applied for reinstatement through his attorney, Morton Witkin.

Klein said he could not say immediately when the commission would act on the application for reinstatement.

49ers Will Leave For Minnesota Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty Niners, talk of the league after their 35-0 romp over Los Angeles, will leave Friday for a three game eastern swing which will start Sunday against the Minnesota Vikings.

Latest team statistics released today showed that the Forty Niners had outgained their foes 1470 to 897 yards while outscoring them 129 to 33.

Hockey Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The National Hockey League gets under way for its 45th season tonight when last year's two weakest teams—the Boston Bruins and the New York Rangers—meet at Boston Garden.

Unitas Slump Baffles Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Johnny Unitas has been a mystery to National Football League opponents of the Baltimore Colts for six years. But the all-pro quarterback has not been particularly hard to solve in four games so far this season.

Enemy defenders have picked off nine of his passes and his completion percentage has dropped to 49.4. Unitas also is far behind in his pace of last year when he threw for 3,099 yards, and NFL record.

What's wrong?

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who indicated yesterday he might bench Unitas and start Lamar McHan Sunday against the Bears in Chicago, frankly admits he doesn't know for sure. Unitas has become a new kind of mystery quarterback.

Ewbank said Unitas' sub-par performance so far seems partly from a sore finger. "I looked at his finger and it's swollen. It's sore, there's no question about it," said the Colt coach.

Speculation that Unitas has been rushed more this season than in past years was discounted by Ewbank. "We figure that in last Sunday's game, there were only four plays on which there was poor pass protection and that's average for any game," he said.

Against the Green Bay Packers, who stunned the Colts 45-7, Unitas clicked on only 11 of 24 passes. Five were intercepted. A reticent player who won't offer alibis for his "off-days" Unitas has not been much help in explaining his dilemma. He hasn't even confided in Ewbank.

Champion Yanks Won't Stand Pat

New Yorkers Seeking Pitcher, More Bench

"We are eager to get another starting pitcher and we may need more bench strength," general manager Roy Hamey said yesterday after the Yankees arrived back in New York from Cincinnati, where they completed a five-game rout of the Reds in the World Series.

Hamey said he planned to sit down with manager Ralph Houk within the next few days to discuss winter trades aimed at further strengthening the roster of the world champions.

The biggest problems facing the Yankees is whether the international situation may cause pitchers Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford, shortstop Tony Kubek and rookie infielder Tom Tresh to be summoned to military service. All are in the reserves.

Houk also must decide what to do with Johnny Blanchard, the Yankees' reserve catcher-outfielder who hit two key homers and wound up with a .400 batting average in the series. National Leaguers were astonished that such a premium player did not play every day.

Blanchard most likely will wind up in left field next year, with Mickey Mantle patrolling center and home run king Roger Maris in right. That's the only position open to the rangy Minnesota native.

"I'm going to do all I can to earn a regular job next season," Blanchard said before leaving for his home in Minneapolis. "Houk told me to be ready to practice in the outfield at spring training and that's what I'm going to do."

Following the series, it was reported that Yogi Berra, the Yankees' other transplanted catcher, was considering retiring.

The 36-year-old Yogi, who broke nine records and equalled two in this year's series, was non-committal. However, his wife, Carmen, dropped a hint on Yogi's future plans when she remarked: "He'd never be happy out of baseball."

U.S. Netmen Prepare For Italian Stars

ROME (AP)—Four young men carrying America's hopes for the Davis Cup planned to pour it on today in their last intensive practice before facing Italy's seasoned tennis squad in the interzone finals this weekend.

The U.S. and Italian teams will know tonight who faces who in the opening singles matches Friday on the clay courts of the Rome Tennis Club. David Freed, non-playing captain of the American Davis Cuppers, said it matters little which Italian—Fausto Gardini or Nicola Pietrangeli—gets the opening assignment.

"They are both good and it wouldn't make any difference," said Freed.

He's definitely set on Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., in the singles. By the time the drawings are begun, Freed will have decided whether Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., or Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., will handle the other match.

By tonight Freed also must decide who will pair with Dell for the doubles.

Douglas' strong showing in practice makes him the likely choice, although a determined Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill., is in the running.

Colts Stress Hurlers, Mets Like Sluggers

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Houston Colts concentrated on pitching strength and the New York Mets placed heavy emphasis on long-ball hitters in selecting their first players from the National League grab bag.

Among the pitchers chosen by the Colts during yesterday's special draft were Ken Johnson, who had a 6-2 record with the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds this year; Dick Farrell (8-7) of Los Angeles Dodgers, Bobby Shantz (6-3) of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Sam Jones (8-8) of the San Francisco Giants.

FAIR SUCCESS

Because the Mets will be forced to play their home games in the Polo Grounds during their initial season next year, they went into the meeting in search of power hitters and came out of the session with fair success.

Nobody was surprised when the Mets grabbed big Gil Hodges of the Los Angeles Dodgers, still a home run threat at the age of 37 and a long-time hero of the old Brooklyn fans.

However, the Mets also managed to latch onto such established left-hand hitters as Hobie Landrith of the Giants, Gus Bell of the Reds, and Ed Bouchee of the Chicago Cubs—all of whom will be aiming at the Polo Grounds' inviting 257-foot right field wall next season.

THE STATISTICS

The statictics appear to bear out the feeling that the Mets wound up with more power than the colts. The players chosen by New York from the eight other N. L. clubs hit a total of 53 homers to 22 for the Colts during the past season.

The new Houston pitchers, though, had an overall record of 30-25 in the majors this year while New York's hurlers had a composite 13-16 mark.

The Mets shelled out $1,800,000 for 22 players and the Colts spent $1,850,000 for 23 players.

The general managers of both new clubs agreed "we did a lot better than we bargained for."

Course Impresses Ryder Cup Golfers

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP)—America's Ryder Cup golfers agreed today that, come wind or rain or both, this royal links is a true and tough test for the biennial match against Britain Friday and Saturday.

The Yanks reached this unanimous opinion after playing their first practice rounds over the Lytham St. Anne's course in a drizzling rain, but without the wind that can turn the layout into 6,635 yards of treachery.

"It's a real tight course," said Gene Littler, U.S. Open champion, after playing his first 18 holes over British soil.

"You have to hit the ball straight. If you don't — well, brother you're in trouble."

The Ryder Cup battle—14th in the series and won 10 times by the United States—is certain to draw huge crowds to this vacation coastline in England's northwest.

Upwards of 10,000 people are expected to swarm over the seaside links on each day of the match — eight foursomes on Friday and 16 singles on Saturday, all over 18 holes, morning and afternoon, under the new revised Ryder Cup system.

"The course is in terrific condition," said Mike Souchak, of Grossinger, N.Y. "It only penalizes you when you get where you're not supposed to be."

Jay Herbert, the U.S. team's 38-year-old bachelor, said:

"This course is going to need a lot of local knowledge. It's got plenty of hidden traps, but I guess we'll have the feel of it before the match starts."

Bulldogs Stay Unbeaten In 'C' Cage Play

San Rafael High boasts the only undefeated team in Marin County Athletic League "C" basketball after handing Marin Catholic its first defeat, 23-18, in a close game yesterday.

Joe Ferraiuolo scored 9 and Jim Schmidt 8 points for the winners while the entire Bulldog squad performed well defensively. Lou Thoelecke had 8 for the losers. San Rafael is now 5-0, Marin Catholic 3-1.

In other games yesterday, Novato dumped Tamalpais 45-23 and Drake beat Redwood 27-17. Novato is now 3-2 in the standings, Drake 2-2, Redwood 1-3, Tam 1-3, and Terra Linda 0-4.

Tomorrow San Rafael plays Tamalpais, Redwood meets Terra Linda and Drake battles Marin Catholic.

BOBBY LAYNE ON THE INJURY LIST

Bobby Layne, veteran quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, receives hot pack treatment from Steeler trainer Dr. Ray Sweeney for the injury to his left side that has sidelined him. Layne will miss at least two games and could be out for the remainder of the season. The quarterback is hopeful, however, that he will be able to return for at least some of the second half of the NFL schedule. (AP Wirephoto)

The FISHIN' FOOL

Winds Wipe Out Striper Angling; Plenty Of Water, Plenty Of Ducks

STEVENS

It is 3:30 p.m., Sunday. The eucalyptus tree in my backyard is swaying and shaking with laughter—at me. I can imagine it is saying: "So you predicted some fast and fancy fishing on this Sabbath, didya!"

I come back with a clever rebuttal: "Sure, I did, but I also predicated that prognostication on the absence of strong winds, remember?"

A few ultra optimistic humans did go aboard a couple of party boats out of Crockett. The skipper drove to the nearest thing to a sheltered spot, Morrow Cove. Very soon after the hook was dropped and the hooks baited, the cold winds searched out the tender parts of the human bodies. Most of the anglers crowded into the cabins and shivered together. Practically no fish were taken. So, how about talking about the coming of duck season, and prospects for downing a few ducks?

YESTERDAY I talked with a chap who lives to greet the opening of all hunting seasons. I happen to know that he has a special place to shoot. The area? Not far from Robin's in the Sutter Basin.

"Been out to look things over?" I asked.

"Yes, was there all day yesterday, getting things fixed up for the 14th."

"Not too many birds around, I suppose?"

My friend (he's my favorite butcher) shook his head.

"You suppose wrong, Ralph. There are plenty of birds, sprigs and mallards. I guess it is because we have plenty of water."

I knew this chap was telling me the truth. And it was good news. The rather gloomy reports of a dearth of ducks in California has saddened many a nervous nimrod. I have heard some declare they wouldn't even go out after them.

The lads who scouted the Gustine area, another sector where there is plenty of water, reported a good showing of birds, and my butcher friend related a conversation he had had with two relatives from Nevada. Seems there is a great scarcity of water just across the border. Many Nevadans are planning to shoot in California as a result.

So the picture does have its silver lining showing through the clouds.

HERE IS A warning to all and sundry who have made or expect to make application to shoot on state-operated waterfowl hunting areas.

The Department of Fish and Game claims it is receiving as many as 1,000 FAULTY applications for advance hunting reservations.

License officer Lawrence O'Leary reports that most of the errors involve applications requesting shooting dates that come BEFORE a particular area will be open to hunting.

Only four state-managed areas—Grizzly Island, San Luis Wasteway, Honey Lake and Imperial (Wister and Ramer units)—will open to shooting on Oct. 14.

The Los Banos and Mendota areas do not open until Oct. 21. The Gray Lodge waterfowl area and the Colusa, Sutter and Merced national refuges do not open until Oct. 23. Many hunters are mistakenly applying for earlier shooting dates on these six delayed-opening areas.

Some applicants fail to state the desired dates and some fail to name the area. Some, also, are circling more than the two dates allowed.

Better read the application form carefully before completing.

Hospital Lists Injured Boxer As Serious

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Billy Johnson, a 24-year-old boxer from Newark, N.J., was in St. Francis Hospital today with a severe brain hemorrhage suffered in a professional bout last night at a local fight club.

Johnson lost consciousness five minutes after he was counted out in the fourth round of a bout against Gene Thomas of Hartford at the Skating Palace.

His condition was listed as serious early this morning at the hospital.

Boston Team Fires Coach

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Patriots of the American Football League have fired head Coach Lou Saban, former Western Illinois University coach, and hired Mike Holovak, ex-Boston College mentor, to replace him.

The Patriots' management lowered the boom suddenly last night by majority vote of the board of directors.

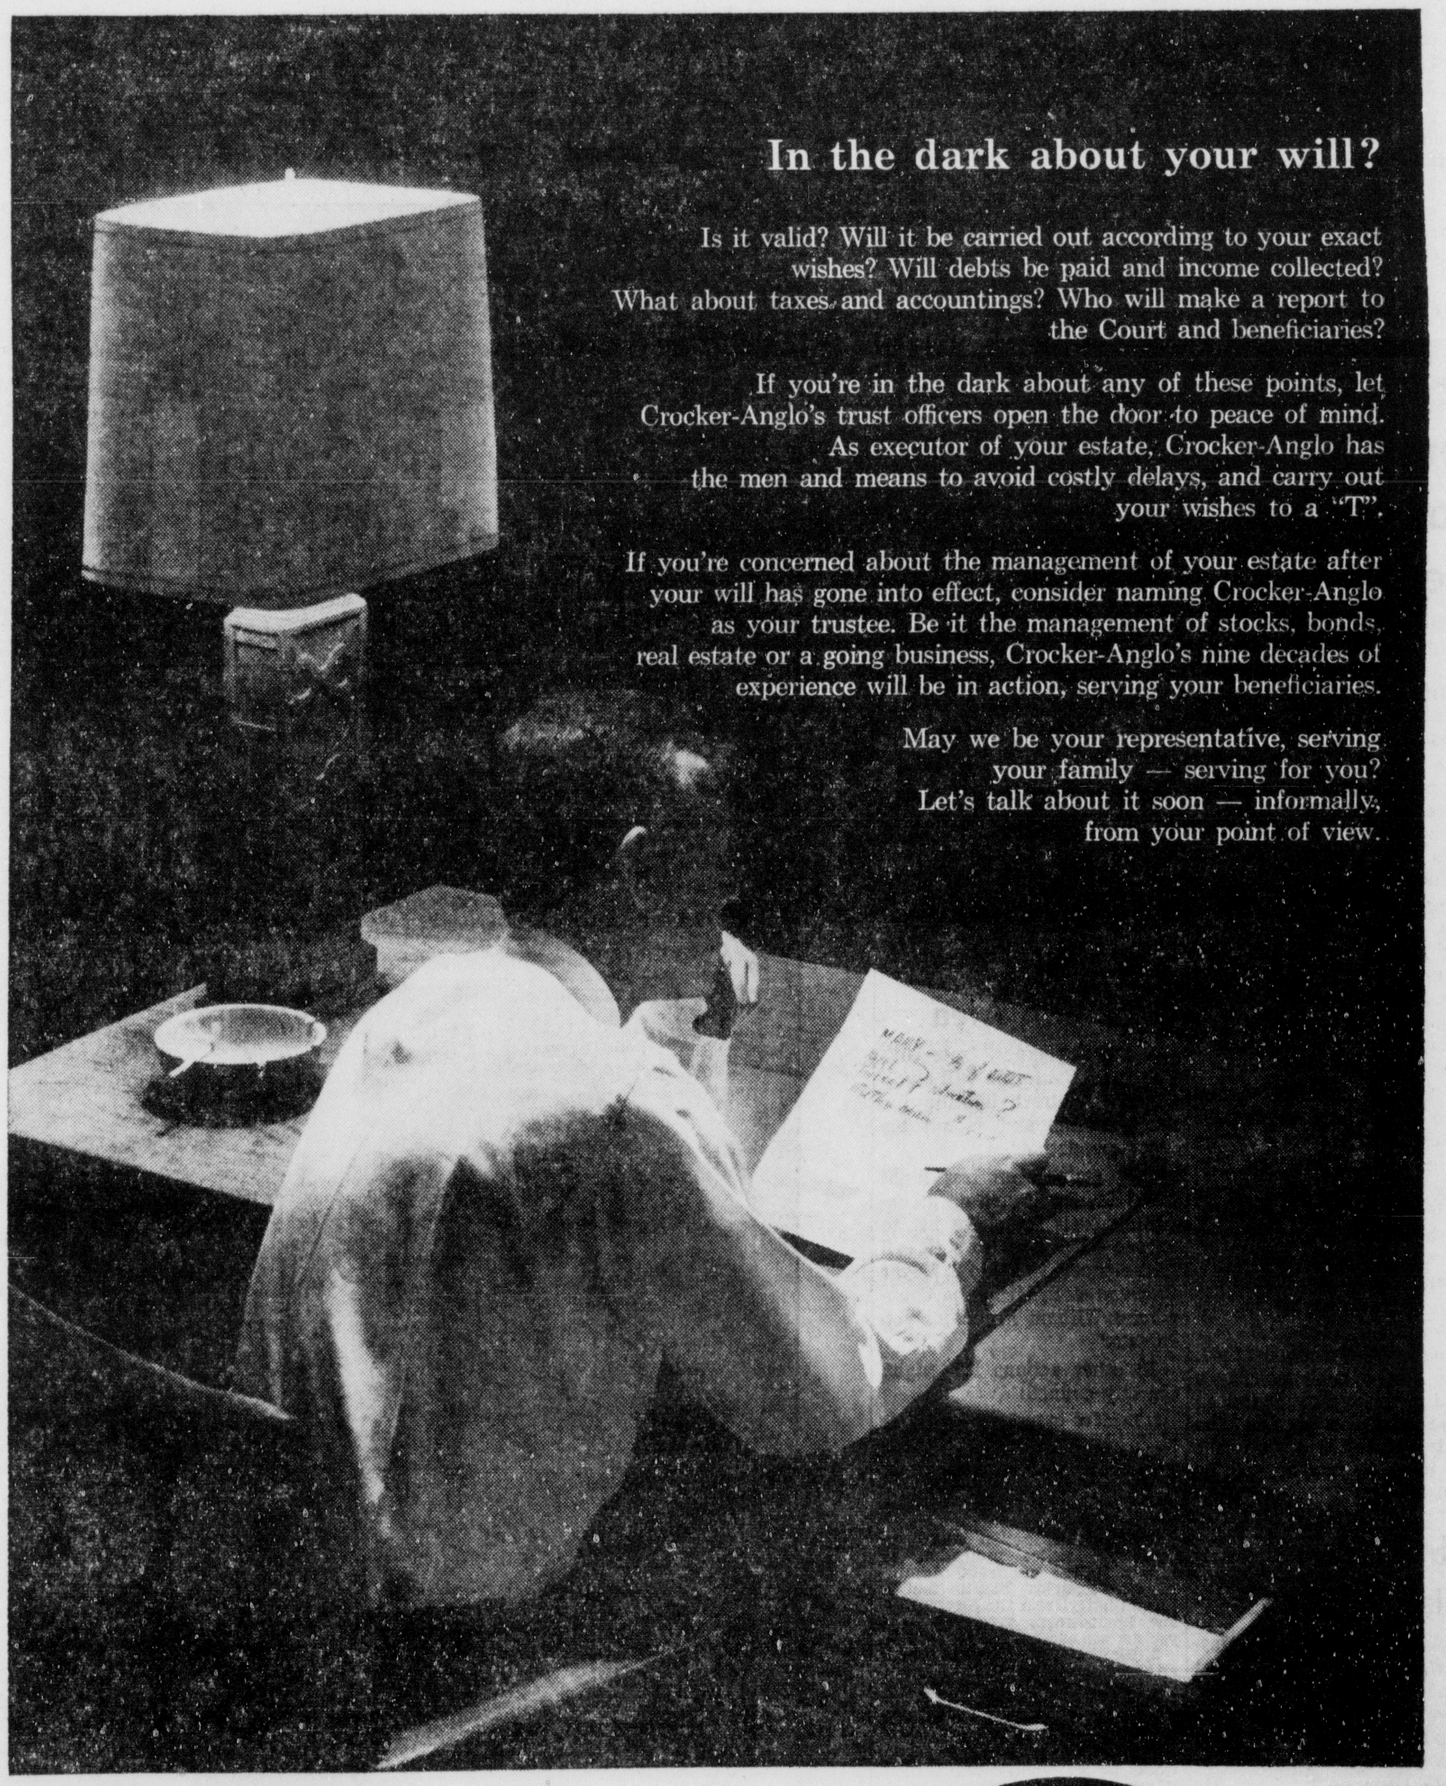

Raiders Readying More Surprises For Broncs

OAKLAND (AP)—Raider Coach Marty Feldman says he is planning still more surprises for the Denver Broncos when the two meet in an American Football League return match at Denver Sunday.

Oakland overwhelmed the Broncos 33-19 in an earlier league clash. Asked about particulars of the new strategy, Feldman said, "I think we ought to let the Broncos see them before we go into detail."

Epilepsy Law Bars Scot From U.S.

HAYWARD (UPI)—A 19-year-old Scottish youth has been ordered deported from the United States under a 50-year-old law against immigrants with any degree of epilepsy.

Norman Riach, who came to Hayward with his mother earlier this year, fell under the law when he volunteered the information that he suffered fainting spells.

He offered the information while undergoing a routine health examination by the immigration service. Doctors checked him further and found no other illnesses—but diagnosed the fainting spells as a mild form of epilepsy.

Then the service denied him his residency permit.

Master Plan Is Ordered For Waterfront Development

San Rafael city officials and an engineer for the Waymar Corp. were instructed by the planning commission last night to work out a master plan for a 1,000-acre waterfront development extending from the East San Rafael shoreline to East Marin Island.

Representing the "more than nine" owners of the property was L. V. Waymire of Ignacio, who said he owns about 650 acres of the parcel. Through his engineer and designer, Harry Kirmond of San Francisco, Waymire told the planners he wanted only "the best possible deal for San Rafael."

Tentative plans call for early development of about 150 acres of the property which Waymire said he would like to use as commercial property. Talks between Kirmond, City Planner James Garrett and City Engineer Dominic Selmi were ordered to determine the best possible use for the area.

The Marin County Humane Society's plan to relocate its animal shelter on 15 acres in the Terra Linda area was scheduled for public hearing on Oct. 24.

Presenting the society's plans was architect Eugene Crawford. Plans show the proposed two-building development to be located about 200 feet from homes in Terra Linda but on an elevation about 50 feet above them. The land would remain in as natural a state as possible, with one administrative building and one community building, which would be available for "groups related to the society's work."

Use of 10 acres on State Highway 69 near the Marin Rod and Gun Club was approved, with conditions, for a public rubbish dump.

Attorney Robert Praetzel, representing owners of the property, was told approval would be given for one year if architectural approval were granted plans for the entrance. The land adjoins a three-acre parcel where a dump is now in operation.

Planning commissioners termed the present dump "an eyesore" and cautioned Praetzel that the extended operation should be improved considerably.

In other business last night, the San Rafael planners:

1. Set for Oct. 24 second public hearing on an appeal of R. D. Lang to rezone a lot at Greenfield Avenue and Miracle Mile from single family residential to commercial for construction of a service station. Half a dozen nearby residents opposed the change in person and submitted a petition in opposition bearing 36 signatures.

2. Set for Oct. 24 second public hearing on a request to rezone both sides of the 300 block of Glen Park Avenue from single family to multiple residential. About a dozen opponents appeared before the commission. Opposition was also expressed through two letters and a petition bearing 105 signatures.

3. Scheduled a second public hearing on a change in the zoning ordinance for Oct. 24. The amendment would allow interested parties other than the applicant to appeal commission decisions.

4. A use permit was granted for one year to Edward Hegeman and Associates to use a residence at 225 West End Avenue as drafting offices.

5. A two-lot subdivision at Woodland and Lindaro Streets was approved providing the developer provides curbs, gutters and sidewalks. Architectural approval for construction of a service station on one of the lots will be asked of the planners.

6. A garage at Fifth Avenue and F Street was approved for use as an art studio provided the occupant, Alva d'Orgiex, provides secondary exit, installs fire extinguishers and allows inspection of electrical installations.

7. A two-lot subdivision at Coleman and Vineyard Frives, sought by Charles Kuhn, was approved.

8. Thomas Guerin was given permission to construct a fallout shelter five feet from his dwelling at 33 Manderly Road. The ordinance requires "accessory buildings" be located 10 feet from the main building.

9. A boundary map of a 60,000-square-foot parcel of land at the Northgate Shopping Center on Las Gallinas Avenue was approved. A use permit for construction of a medical clinic by Kaiser Foundation will be submitted to the planners. Kaiser has purchased the land from the Draper Co.

10. Architectural approval of remodeling of a building at 1615 Fifth Avenue by Top Properties was denied because plans did not eliminate parking in the front setback.

11. Oct. 24 was set for hearing on an appeal by James McKee for establishment of a restaurant and bar in a warehouse at Irwin Street and Lincoln Avenue.

12. Put over to Oct. 24 was a request by Sherill Broudy Associates for approval of a tentative subdivision map of a 17-lot development to be known as the Terrace in Marin Bay.

Drunken Driver Gets Jail Term

Arthur Collins Penwarden, 42, of 21 Lunada Court, San Rafael, must spend five days in county jail and pay $263 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. Penwarden has work furlough privilege while serving his jail term.

Penwarden was arrested at Third and High Streets in San Rafael last June 7. He had a prior conviction in August of 1960.

Joseph Ralph Flanagan, 41, of Guerneville drew six months probation and $166 fine. He was caught on Highway 101 on Sept. 19.

San Anselmo's Books Are Called 'Sloppy'

San Anselmo's bookkeeping system is sloppy in many respects and should be tightened up immediately, an annual audit of the city's books indicated last night.

The audit report was turned over to the city council by the San Francisco firm of Lindquist, Von Husen and Joyce.

City fathers immediately acted on one recommendation—that of making monthly deposits of income taxes deducted from employees' salaries as required by law. The city has been making quarterly deposits.

Mayor Carleton G. E. Little said the other recommendations will be taken up at a later meeting when a representative from the auditing firm is present to answer questions.

Here are some of the comments and recommendations in the audit report:

"The detail of taxes receivable was short of the control account by $1,777, which we were unable to locate.

"The city's accounts do not reflect all changes in appropriations approved by the council. We are unable therefore to compare the detail of the expenditures with those budgeted.

"The city does not have adequate accounting controls over the tax rolls, and we were unable therefore to reconcile total taxes, collections, etc., with the delinquent rolls.

"The city does not keep copies of the unsecured tax bills. Copies of the county statements of assessed valuation of unsecured property are used to compute the city tax and are retained to serve as the unsecured tax roll. A carbon copy of the actual city tax bill would serve this purpose better.

"Procedures for improved control of property taxes should be adopted.

"Business licenses are being collected by the police department. Consideration should be given to the transfer of this function to the main city office.

"The present method of handling cash collections would be improved considerably by the adoption of a uniform counter receipt to be used for all items except property taxes.

"The use of purchase orders by the city library is recommended so that all city departments will be on the same basis."

Several other suggestions are also made in the 12-page report.

Henry Miller 'Cancer' Suit Filed In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "Latrine literature" — that's City Atty. Roger Arnebergh's description of Henry Miller's controversial novel "Tropic of Cancer."

The book, about American expatriates living the Bohemian life of Paris in the 1920s, is headed for another court test to determine whether it is obscene.

Arnebergh issued a complaint against Bradley R. Smith, Hollywood bookstore owner, for having sold the best seller. The trial will test California's new law making it a misdemeanor to sell obscene literature.

Smith was ordered yesterday to appear in court Oct. 24 to present a plea to a charge that he violated the new law.

The court will have to decide if the book is obscene, it has redeeming social importance which would make it legal fare, and if Smith sold the book, knowing it to be obscene.

Arnebergh commented: "That such a book is today a so-called best seller is indeed a sad commentary on the morals and tastes of that portion of the reading public which buys it."

Hub Salesman In Whisky Theft Case

A San Anselmo auto salesman was arraigned in Federal Court in San Francisco yesterday and ordered to appear Oct. 19 to answer charges of receiving five cases of stolen whisky.

Isadore Biess, 37, of 760 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was charged with accepting the whisky with knowledge that it was stolen from a boxcar on Sept. 23 by Henry J. Pickette, 22, of San Francisco.

Biess allegedly received the whisky, valued at more than $100 which makes the charge a felony, on the same day it was stolen. He is free on $250 bail. Pickette was not arrainged yesterday as he was in jail on a former charge of mail theft.

Lighting Expert Will Study Hub Downtown Area

A lighting expert from University of California will study downtown street lighting for San Anselmo and submit his recommendations.

City councilmen last night hired Dr. Dan Finch on a consulting basis for a fee not to exceed $300. The vote to call in the expert was 3 to 2. Mayor Carleton G. E. Little and Councilman William Franchini voted "no."

In other actions last night, the city council:

1. Decided to make a field study of a carport requested by Mrs. Dolores Sill of 19 Roger Avenue. The carport was approved by the planning commission, but neighbors protested and appealed to the council.

2. Postponed action on a request for police protection by Sleepy Hollow residents. Administrator Douglas Flautt said a formal letter from the Sleepy Hollow homeowners group has not yet arrived.

3. Hired Harry Allison as sweeper operator at $395 per month and Francis Smith of Corte Madera as laborer at $358 per month.

4. Appointed Arthur Sell of 67 Jordan Avenue to fill a vacancy on the planning commission. Sell works for an architectural firm in Richmond.

5. Asked the administrator to see whether the big "valentine" sign was ever approved by the city council for a new service station going up on the Miracle Mile.

6. Approved the use of the parking lot on an old railroad right of way (across the street from Safeway store) for an "auto show" to be held on Nov. 11. William Steele of Ross Valley Times said his paper and the chamber of commerce would like to invite all Marin auto dealers to display their new cars at the show.

7. Proclaimed Oct. 20 and 21 as White Cane Days in San Anselmo.

8. Paid monthly bills totalling $51,170.

FOUR NEW THUNDERBIRDS starring a smart Sports Roadster and a sophisticated Landau

This year Thunderbird's unique flair is expressed in four great originals—a scintillating quartet of models that make America's most envied car more enviable still. There is the crisp beauty of the four-passenger Hardtop, undisputed trend-setter of the American Road. There is the sun worshiper's own edition, the swift-lined Convertible.

Third is 1962's unique concept of total luxury, the new limited-edition Sports Roadster. Sleek as a racing hydroplane, arrogantly individual in its gleaming sweep of deck, this is the most exciting invitation to two-passenger travel ever issued . . . and removal of the tonneau cover reveals the standard Thunderbird rear seat when four must journey.

Fourth, there's now a Thunderbird in evening dress, the Landau . . . an ultramodern version of the luxurious town car, with lustrous leather-grained vinyl top accented by the polished symbol of a traditional S-bar.

All four are pure Thunderbird, graced with the individual ease that is Thunderbird's hallmark; the creative touches from "floating" rearview mirror to separate, molded foam rubber seats that set this car apart; the velvet authority of Thunderbird V-8 power. All four are crafted to Thunderbird standards of extraordinary quality and polished perfection of performance—a perfection you will want to see and sample at your Ford Dealer's now.

PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

This year the unique Swing-Away steering wheel, which moves over to let the driver enter, is standard on all Thunderbirds.

The slip-stream headrests of the Sports Roadster are an integral part of the lift-off tonneau cover (which can remain in place while the top is raised or lowered). Standard equipment includes chrome wire wheels and a passenger assist bar.

A gleaming traditional S-bar on the leather-grained vinyl top distinguishes the new Landau. It has the power steering, power brakes, individually adjustable front seats, and padded instrument panel that are standard equipment on all Thunderbirds.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Dr. And Mrs. Carr Return From Own South Pacific Isle

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

How would you like to have your own island in the South Pacific? That is the happy lot of Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Carr of San Rafael, who bought the island sight unseen and have just returned from a stay there and are delighted with it. They heard about the island from Dr. Roy Edmonds, dean of the medical school in Fiji. The island, Rewalau, is in the Fiji group. It has had only three owners. The first, according to the Fijians, was a sea captain who received Rewalau as a grant.

Dr. and Mrs. Carr, who were away five weeks, flew to Honolulu then to Fiji. They first stayed at Koralevu Hotel, on the south coast of the main island, Vitilevu. They reached their island by going by small boat down a river and across a bay. Rewalau is 16 acres. Coconut palms were planted there and it abounds with papayas, breadfruit, bananas, and tropical vegetables.

A house on the island is being remodeled by the Carrs, who get their help from Vitilevu, as no natives are on Rewalau. They intend to spent their vacations there each year.

AN INTERESTING YEAR or two abroad is ahead of Miss Bonnie Ryder, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William B. Ryder Jr. of Belvedere. Tomorrow she will sail from Montreal for England where she will visit former Belvedere resident, Mrs. A. E. Hand, and meet Miss Joan Proctor with whom she has been sharing an apartment in San Francisco.

Bonnie, a graduate of the University of Colorado, is a medical X-ray technician. Miss Proctor, a physical therapist, is in Europe under the Experiment in International Living program. The two young women plan to tour the British Isles, spend the winter skiing in Austria and then travel to many countries on the continent.

During their travels they will visit hospitals and either work at their respective professions or attend schools to learn the European techniques.

Miss Ryder's parents will accompany her to the East coast where they will spend a few days in New York before the sailing. Dr. and Mrs. Ryder will attend the American Dental meeting in Philadelphia and travel through the South before returning home.

STRICTLY FOR FUN was the day at Bay Meadows Monday arranged by Mrs. Walter Coberly of Greenbrae with an assist by San Rafael's Bob Alderman. It was Press Club Day at the race track and Bob, special events chairman of the San Francisco Press and Union League Club, arranged for chartered Greyhound buses for transportation from the club to Bay Meadows, luncheon and seats at the track club. Mary Coberly had in her group Mesdames Donald Rafael, Harvie Freed, George Collins, Jack Wilsey, J. E. Preston, J. Kenneth Peters, Lewis Aaron, Frank Costanza, John Chrysler, Guy Ciocca, Rufus Rhodes and Victor Kagan.

A HOME IN THE ALPS is being sought by Mr. and Mrs. John (Peggy) Wilberg who left Friday on an American freighter bound for Europe. After they land in Bremen, Germany, they will buy a car and drive along the Rhine, then go to Munich and Austria. They want to find a chalet at Innsbruck in the Tyrol. The trip will take them four weeks. They hope their friends will write them in care of the American consulate at Salzburg, Austria. The Wilbergs have lived in Mill Valley for 16 years.

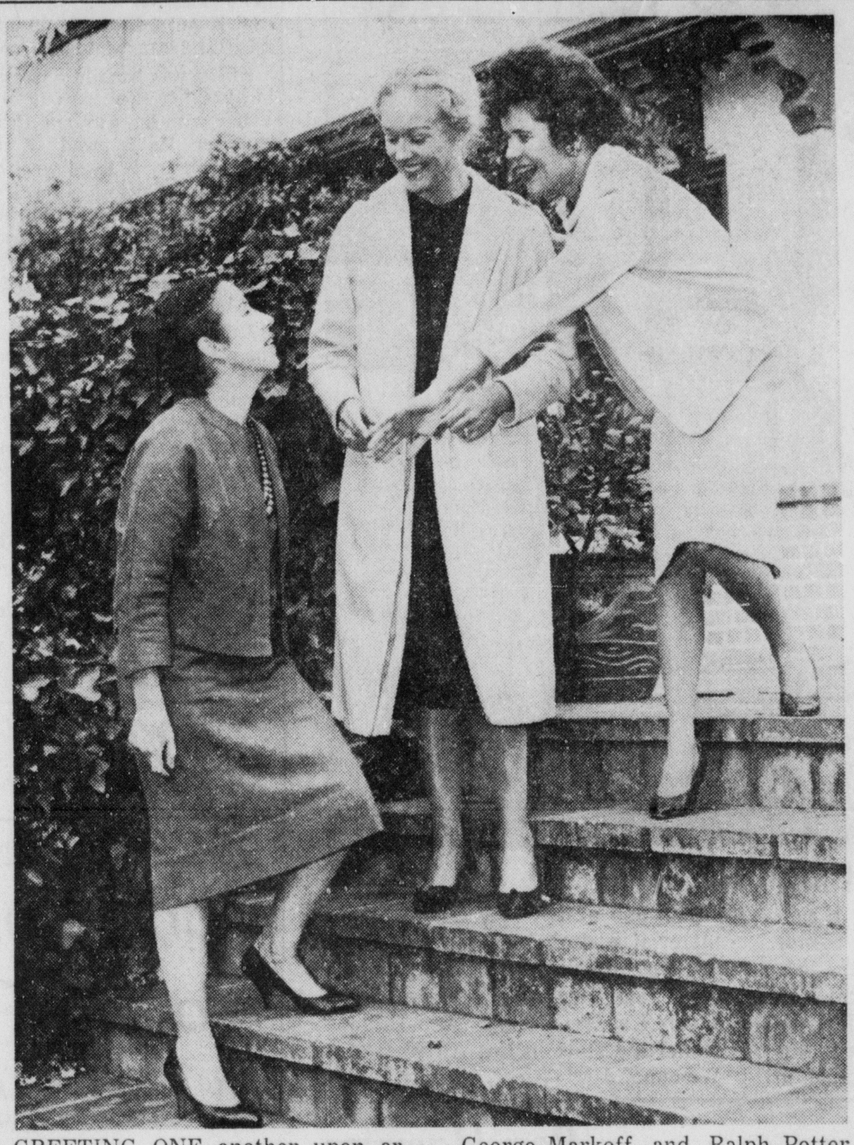

Peggy will be working on a translation from German to English of "Puppets in God's Hand" by Dr. Vladmir Lindenberg, her cousin. He was a Russian prince prior to the 1917 revolution and is now a brain surgeon and has taken a German surname.

Peggy, who has previously helped organize Olympic games, will also work on the organization of the winter Olympics to take place at Innsbruck in 1964. Her husband will do photographic work.

Tri Delts Luncheon Oct. 18

A fashion show of country clothes, modeled by members of the Mannequin League of Marin, will highlight Tri Deltas annual luncheon at the Meadow Club in Fairfax on Oct. 18, at 12:15 p.m. Proceeds from the afternoon affair will provide a college scholarship for a Marin County girl.

Last year Tri Deltas awarded the scholarship to Lynda Haines, then a Redwood High School student, who has since enrolled for her freshman year at Stanford. This year the recipient of the funds will be chosen from Sir Francis Drake High School.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. John Morrison who will be assisted by Mrs. Stuart Burmeister. Committee heads are Mrs. David Brady, Mrs. Irwin Diamond, and Mrs. Paul T. Bradley.

In keeping with the theme of the luncheon many of the clothes modeled will be suitable for the football weekends ahead. Mrs. W. Jones McQuiston is acting as fashion co-ordinator for the show and the models will be Mrs. George Coburn, Mrs. Rhoda Denton, Mrs. John Codington, Mrs. William Donahoe, Mrs. Richard Evans, and Miss Marge Popovich. Arrangements have also been made for those guests who wish to play bridge before luncheon starting at 11 a.m.

Yummy Dessert

Ice cream continues to grow in popularity. The U.S. Department of Agriculture said consumption of ice cream and other frozen desserts was 17.2 pounds per person in 1950, 13 pounds in 1955, and 18.4 pounds in 1960.

Paprika Adds Color

A dash of paprika adds contrasting color to cole slaw, potato salad, or deviled eggs. Store the paprika jar in the refrigerator; this eliminates danger of this spice's attracting tiny, flying insects.

SWIM SUITS FOR '62

While much of the country is getting ready for overcoats and winter clothes, swim suit designers are bringing out styles for the warm days of 1962. For beach and poolside, designer Marina del Mar displays this creation called "Casino." It comes in either one or two piece suit. The material is dark knit orlon and lastex with dazzling white detail for these startling maillot-style suits. Twins Kay, left, and Ann Hughes model the suits in Los Angeles. (AP Wirephoto)

MRS. ROBERT Kettenbach of Belvedere spends many hours in fund raising work for charitable agencies, but she snatches a few hours a week for a favorite hobby, reading. After 12 years enrollment she is a graduate of the "Great Books" course. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mrs. Robert Kettenbach Is Veteran Of Charity Finance

Mrs. Robert Kettenbach of Belvedere is one woman who doesn't fall to pieces when faced with a column of numerals. In fact experienced holder of pursestrings for such organizations in Marin as Girl Scouts and Sunny Hills, having been treasurer of both.

Currently she's foregone the bridge games which are a favorite hobby to serve as vice president and special gifts committee member of the Marin United Fund, an interest she acquired through work with Sunny Hills and Scouts, both Crusade agencies. She also serves on the United Bay Area Crusade board of governors, but when she gets a chance she squeezes in a little time for conversational Spanish with a friend who shares this hobby.

No stranger to the world of work, having been a "career gal" in San Francisco as assistant to the merchandise manager of a large department store, Lillian Kettenbach has no trouble filling her days.

She's been busy with Girl Scout doings since her daughter, Paula, now Mrs. William Raudio of San Anselmo, became a Brownie. And though she likes to cook, sew and do a little swimming—the Kettenbachs home is on Belvedere lagoon—the tradition of community service keeps this active Marinite filling important jobs to raise funds through such agencies as the United Fund for local youth and adult aid programs.

Adoption Facts Are Presented In A New Book

For Couples who want to adopt a baby, "The Couple Who Want a Baby" by Dr. Marie Pichel Warner offers information. The book devotes an entire chapter to such questions as where the adopted babies come from and how they are selected.

Dr. Warner describes the processes involved in adoption, how accredited adoption agencies work, what is meant by "black market" adoption, the difference between "private adoption" and "agency adoption," and many other factors. Also, it includes suggestions for additional reading on the subject.

In this book Dr. Warner deals with the whole problem of sterility or "infertility." She approaches the subject of adoption as the final answer to the dilemma of childless couples, if medical or psychological treatment fails.

Parents Shouldn't Hold Back Youngsters' Urge To Learn

(Q) "I've been told children should not learn the alphabet before they start school. However, my 4-year-old son knows all the letters. He has a set of blocks with the letters on them. He plagued us until we told him the order in which they come. Now he rattles off the ABCs at a fast rate. He has taught himself to read about 20 words. Should we try to stop him?"—Mrs. N.T.

(A) No, don't. Thousands of alert boys and girls learn the alphabet. Many of them teach themselves to read before they enter school. Parents shouldn't push their children but neither should they hold them back.

(Q) "My 14-year-old daughter just gave me a tongue-lashing. She called me a 'vulgar woman' because I walked from the bathroom to the bedroom in the nude. I had taken a shower and was in a hurry. My daughter worries me. We never have been prudes in our house. We've felt that excessive modesty was unhealthy. Now she talks like this! What is wrong? —Mrs. L.K.

(A) Probably nothing. Most girls in their early teens criticize their parents. They no longer idolize them. Instead they feel resentful and hostile. If your daughter wasn't scolding you for this she'd be complaining about something else. Be patient and insist on reasonable courtesy. She'll get over it.

(Q) "We have three children 7, 9 and 12. They came late in life. Now I am in the menopause period and get upset easily. The children get on my nerves something awful. What can I do?"—V.

(A) See your doctor. Ask about medicines to calm your nerves. Doctors work wonders with menopause problems these days.

Shirts Grow With Baby

Stretch baby shirts that grow with the size of the infant will soon be on the market.

Although standard cotton shirts usually must be replaced six times as a child develops from infancy to a 3-year-old, two sizes of the stretch kind covers the same period of growth. The shirts are available in small and medium only.

They are cotton on the inside to insure softness and absorption, and nylon on the outside. The manufacturer claims the stretch shirts have a 50 per cent longer life.

Wives' Aid In Alerts Discussed At Hamilton

The importance of wives helping their husbands in the Air Force was discussed by Maj. Gen. C. F. Necrason before the newcomers to the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Wives Club recently.

General Necrason told of the functions of the 28th Air Division and in particular the 83rd and 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadrons stationed at Hamilton. He stressed the importance of the wife in helping her husband, particularly during the time of practice and real alerts. He urged wives to understand the different alert warnings and facilities available to them and their families.

FAMILY FARE

Undesirable Materials Can Be Fought In Joint Effort

Following up on the concern expressed by 5,000 delegates at the state Parent-Teachers convention in Los Angeles, the Mass Media Communications Committee made these suggestions as to what can be done about pornographic materials by local P-TA groups.

Inform parents of the need to be alert to obscene or pornographic materials, magazines, books, paperbacks, cards, records and films.

Form a committee. Examine community newsstands; become informed on type of printed materials available to youth. Suggested committee members: juvenile protection, parent education, home reading, citizenship, men's participation and others.

Report findings at regular meetings.

Tactfully encourage cooperation of dealers to display wholesome reading materials.

Consult with law enforcement officers regarding laws concerning distribution and sale of such materials. Inform membership.

Advise parents that obscene materials usually come unsolicited through first-class mail.

These actions were recommended to parents to eliminate use of pornographic materials.

Know what your children are reading.

Provide good reading material in the home.

Establish habits of using public libraries.

Be interested in what the children receive through the mail. Obscene materials are usually unsolicited and come by first class mail. Take the envelope and its contents to the local postmaster.

Television Tellers

A Waukesha, Wis., bank offers customer service by closed television. A customer drives up to a "customer unit" at the First National Bank, pushes a button, and alerts a teller 300 feet away. By means of television monitors and a carrier which relays money, deposit slips, et cetera, the customer does not have to move from the car to carry on routine banking transactions.

Life Of 'Fresh' Egg Being Studied By State Committee

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A state Senate agricultural committee studying proposed legislation dealing with production and marketing of eggs is particularly interested in the qualities that justify labeling of an egg as fresh.

Near the end of a two-day session here the committee took testimony on an Assembly bill which would require egg refrigeration at 60 degrees until delivery to customers.

Carl Nall, executive secretary of the Pacific Dairy and Poultry Assn., said such legislation would be desirable for the egg industry.

"There is need for refrigeration at all levels of handling," he said.

But as to the definition of a fresh egg, Nall told the committee: "It is generally believed that the term 'fresh' applies to age. Fresh relates to condition and grade, more than age."

Nall said eggs cannot be kept in cold storage for more than 30 days and be called fresh.

The witness said one in five supermarkets is providing adequate refrigeration for handling eggs. But he added there are stores doing an outstanding job in refrigeration.

LONDON (AP)—Britain's big producer of fattening carbohydrates is also making money out of reducing clubs.

That's one of the reasons why Lord Rank is known as one of the best business men in the United Kingdom.

Lord Rank's family fortune was made on flour. It's still a moneymaker for the Rank Organization whose financial empire includes producing movies, cinemas, bowling alleys and now a new enterprise — the "health club."

A spokesman for the organization says the success of the company's initial two clubs in London has led to a decision to set them up all over the country.

"We have more than 7,000 members paying a minimum of $67.20 a year," says Mrs. Donna Keith, manager of one of the clubs.

"They use the club as often as they like and we can cope with as many as 500 a day."

Referring to the success of health clubs in the United States, Mrs. Keith says:

"American women are keener on enlarging their busts, while in England the biggest need is for slimmer hips and ankles."

More than half the membership in this country are women between the ages of 40 and 60.

New FHA Ruling May Lead To Improvement

The Federal Housing Administration has started giving bathrooms a room count in apartment house minimum property standards.

Under the new rule, a full bathroom is given a half-room count. A second full bathroom also receives a half-room count except in one-room apartments which do not have a bedroom.

Establishment of a room count for bathrooms means that builders can obtain additional mortgage insurance on multi-family construction. The FHA sees the likelihood of improved quality in bathrooms as a result of the revised standards.

Undetectable Ears

A hearing assistor can be snapped in and out of specially made eyeglass frames. The transistorized device, housed in an elongated capsule, makes it possible to use the aid with a variety of frames. The manufacturer reports that the new design makes the hearing instrument virtually undetectable.

Public Utilities Commission Starts Second Half Century

Just 50 years ago yesterday an independent state agency was created by the voters to regulate utilities and certain transportation companies.

At a special election, the people of California agreed with then Gov. Hiram W. Johnson that chaos existed in the utilities and transportation fields; that it would get worse instead of better if they were not brought under regulation.

They created the Railroad Commission, a five-man, appointive board. In 1946 it became the state Public Utilities Commission.

One day in 1913, after the commission was actually organized and in operation, a Miss Jane White of Pasadena complained to it that the express rates for shipping "goats in crates" were too high. Since then to July 1 this year, the commission staff has settled 104,492 utility complaints and disputed bills without necessity of a formal hearing, and thousands of formal complaints have been decided by the commission.

The commissioners have handed down more than 62,000 written decisions dealing with rates, service, safety and other regulations of utilities and transportation facilities and have instituted hundreds of other investigations.

In its fine half century of service, the PUC has had the able help of a number of Marinites. Justus F. Craemer of Kent Woodlands served longer than any other commissioner. He retired in 1956 just two months before the end of three terms, 18 years on the commission.

Gen. Richard E. Mittlestaedt of Greenbrae, who retired in 1954, served the longest consecutive term as PUC president, from 1948 to 1954.

Everett C. McKeage of Sleepy Hollow, the current president, is one of only two commissioners who also served as PUC chief counsel, commissioner and president. The other is Max Thelen Sr., of San Francisco, now 81 and the attorney who cooperated in writing the original Public Utilities Act in 1912.

Another Marinite is commission member Peter E. Mitchell of Ross, also a former PUC president. And former commissioner Matthew J. Dooley lives in Sausalito.

All Californians can be proud of the job the PUC has done as it starts its second half century of service today. And we in Marin can be particularly proud of the part our fellow Marinites have played in that service.

College Stadium Widely Used

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

You recently hurled a "Brickbat" at the marking of the College of Marin football field. Your suggestion that an effort be made to correct this situation is greatly appreciated. Please be assured that this effort will be made to the best of our ability.

The College of Marin Board of Trustees has adopted a policy of granting the use of the football field to worthy organizations throughout the community. For this attitude the board of trustees deserves a "bouquet."

Four local high schools play their varsity and junior varsity games on our field. The "home game" schedules of six Pop Warner League football teams are played on our field. The College of Marin must practice each day and play its football games on this field.

There are some 75 to 100 games plus daily practice sessions on this field annually. In addition, many other charity and service functions of credit to the community are performed here. This is certainly a place which serves well the needs of the entire community.

Under these conditions of constant use the turf must certainly suffer wear, and the marking inevitably become less discernable on the "tired" surface.

Greater efforts to meet your request shall certainly be made, but if this field is to continue servicing as many community needs as it presently does, the problem will remain acute. Many colleges follow a policy of restricting the use of their stadiums to their own activities excluding all others.

Thank you again for your suggestion, but it is our honest belief that the continued effort of the College of Marin to serve the community to the best of its ability is its most important function.

For Want Of $212, No Fire Radios

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In all the recent hassling about San Anselmo's downtown street lights, a pathetic but significant little matter went down the drain.

At a recent meeting a request for two new fire truck radios was presented. Total cost, $212. The reason? At certain geographical spots the present radios die out. The fire chief doesn't always know where his equipment is. He cannot contact men or trucks to give instructions.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt dutifully had taken a ride in a fire truck, and did dutifully report that the radio did die out.

His conclusion?

We don't need new radios.

Council's conclusion?

Ditto.

The council members did not consider, nor discuss, what could happen if a serious fire should break out in a downtown store when the fire trucks are out of reach.

The old jingle says, "For want of a nail a kingdom was lost." It COULD happen here.

BEWARE OF AGE-OLD TRICKERY

Ever hear of the "Spanish Swindle"? It is a variation of one of the oldest tricks employed by confidence men.

According to the Post Office Department, a victim receives a letter from a "banker" in Mexico, saying: "A person who knows you and has spoken very highly about you has made me entrust to you a very delicate matter, on which depends the entire future of my daughter as well as my very existence."

The recipient is told that the "banker" has a large sum of money hidden away but needs $10,000 to pay his debts and get out of jail. He is offered one-third of the sum if he helps.

When the duped person shows up at a rendezvous with the money, he is met, not by the man's daughter, but by gunman who unburdens him of the $10,000.

Ever since the serpent deceived Adam and Eve, man has been taken in by flattery, greed and sentimentality. Show a Christlike concern for the plight of others but do not let the wool be pulled over your eyes.

"Counsel and equity is Mine, prudence is Mine, strength is Mine."
(Proverbs 8:14)

Keep me from fuzzy thinking, O Holy Spirit, which can betray myself and others into needless woe.

You'll Never Guess What Saved This Marriage—Or Will You?

NEW YORK (AP)—It was raining outside their small apartment, and she felt nervous.

"I'm not kidding about the divorce—this time I really am going through with it," said Ella. "The way you acted at the party last night! What were you trying to celebrate so hard?"

"Never mind," said Tom. "If you want the divorce, you can have it. I'll give you half my salary. What'll we do about the bank account?"

"There's only $12 left in it," replied Ella.

"Okay," said Tom. "It's yours. Now what'll we do about the things in the apartment?"

Ella looked at him uncertainly for a moment, then said decisively:

"Let's divide them — since you're being so nice about the money. You choose first."

"Okay, I'll take your twin bed; it's more comfortable."

"Big man!" said Ella. "I'll take the other bed. Shall we divide the dressers—you take yours, I'll take mine? Right? Now it's your choice."

Item by item they went through the house, dividing things. When the furniture had all been divided, they started on the wedding presents, the dishes, the silverware, the pots and pans.

Then they got down to the things in the kitchen cabinet. He got the salt shaker and the cinnamon, she got the pepper shaker and the nutmeg.

Finally there was nothing left in the cabinet but a box of rice.

"You take it," said Ella. "You may need it to throw at your next wedding."

"No, I want to be completely fair about this," said Tom. Grain by grain, he methodically divided the rice into "his" and "her" piles, saying as he did so, "She loves me —she loves me not."

"Well, that was certainly a silly performance," said Ella, when he finished. "I guess that winds it up."

"No," said Tom. "There's one thing left—and I don't see just how we can divide it."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, you were so upset when you came home from the doctor's yesterday, that I went down to the corner and called him, and he told me he was pretty sure that—"

"I DIDN'T want to tell you because he wasn't exactly certain," said Ella, "and we both wanted this so much, and—"

"When I talked to him he seemed pretty sure," said Tom.

"Is that what you were celebrating last night?" asked Ella.

"What else?"

ELLA LEANED over the table and pushed the two piles of rice together into one big pile. Then she walked to the window.

"Oh, Tom!" she cried, "It's stopped raining. Come quick. Guess what I see!"

As he moved toward her in love, Tom didn't have to guess.

He could feel the rainbow in the room.

Governor May Call Special Session To Extend Defense Production Act

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There has been some conversation for the past several weeks concerning a special session of the state legislature to extend the provisions of the Defense Production Act. But Gov. Edmund G. Brown still hasn't made up his mind as to whether he will call the solons together for this purpose.

The act permits firms holding contracts which involve national defense to petition the governor to extend the working hours per week for women.

UNDER PRESENT laws, women are permitted to work 48 hours per week, except in certain types of employment, such as nursing, but cannot work overtime, legally, that is. The defense industries are not included in the exceptions.

The act has been extended ever since 1951. But during the 1961 session, the extension bill was handled by Assemblyman Harold Levering (R-Santa Monica).

LEVERING, AS a Republican, did not have much success with a Democratic legislature, and the extension bill went by the boards.

Since the legislature adjourned, the governor has received several requests from defense industries, asking him to call a special session to extend the act.

It appears somewhat unfortunate that the 1961 legislature turned down Levering's bill without checking the defense production industries to determine whether the working hour extension was necessary for another couple of years.

However, what's been done has been done. If Governor Brown determines it is necessary for the taxpayers to cough up the expense of a special session, then this additional drain on the people will have to be made.

GENERALLY, IT IS not known how critical the situation is in the defense industries. The labor involved is skilled labor and cannot easily be replaced by substitutes. In fact, in some instances, it can't be replaced at all.

Actually, the really unfortunate part of the situation is that the restrictions on hours of work are in the law at all. Such laws are an invasion of the desires of an individual, who might want to work more than 48 hours a week. In fact, many individuals do this, and a lot of them are women. They are not breaking the law. They are holding two jobs.

Gossip has it that Eve didn't say "yes" to Adam for quite a while. "I cannot stand this suspense one day longer," Adam is reputed to have declared. "Is there someone else?" Eve cast a furtive look around the Garden and murmured, "That's what I'd like to know."

"What makes you so sure," inquired a magistrate, "that your butcher's scales are crooked?"

"For one thing," maintained the complaining housewife, "I didn't buy a thing from the robber this morning, and his scale registered four pounds."

"Look at that funny man across the street," suggested a little girl to her mother. "What's funny about him?" asked the mother indulgently. "He's sitting on the sidewalk," reported the little girl, "talking to a banana peel."

After Paying A Speeding Fine You Think A Little About Speed Limits

Gould is full of virtue today. But a little empty of pocket.

Not only am I a card-carrying taxpayer fully squared on all levels, Kennedy through Broemmel, on top of that I've parted most reluctantly with a sizable sum (any sum would be sizable in such connection) to free myself from a ticket awarded by the State of California for driving at a legal rate.

The rate is legal on the Kansas Turnpike, anyhow.

The payment was approved by wife Agnes because I was speeding toward her. Going the other way might have meant a stretch on the rock pile.

ABOUT THAT Kansas Turnpike, 236 pleasant miles across nowhere, I've traveled it three times at an authorized 80 miles per hour among contented cars all purring together like so many pussycats.

Nobody was in trouble with the law except people wanting to go 45 or less. In Kansas they figure slowness can kill. Yet in Maine, the state of my ancestors, 45 is the top legal limit of speed.

The California Highway Patrol is a sound source of information that in this state 65 is the fixed legal rate, never mind how good and how deserted the highway, how excellent the machinery and handsome its driver. (But no penalties if you're a little ancient and shopworn, either.)

Drive up into Washington and proceed with confidence at 65—you'll soon get notice, possibly with assistance of radar, that 60 is the top.

If this leaves you crestfallen and you start south into Oregon you will soon learn that 55 is the rate, though prima facie, which means you can argue. North Carolina makes it 55 with no argument.

BUT DON'T COUNT on 55 as the last word by a long shot. Delaware, Vermont, even New York and New Jersey plus others, think 50 is right.

Yet in Maine, 50 will get you in trouble because they feel 45 to be the fastest motorized man should hurtle through space.

This may send you off the District of Columbia for something really definitive covering the whole so-called union. But go easy; the rate on every inch of road there is a rousing 25 miles an hour!

In case you can still remember that Promised Land of Kansas with it 80-mile turnpike, and want to get there pleasantly, go through Colorado which shares with several other states an agreeable 70-mile top. But don't do any of this California stuff of turning right on a red light—you'll have had it!

AND DON'T FORGET to go through Nevada where "reasonable and proper" is still the civilized watchword as in Montana, Arizona and Connecticut. (But doesn't Connecticut grab your license for exceeding a posted speed?)

Tihs can be confusing on a long ride, but the point I'm making is that nobody can shoot off with too much assurance as to what's a safe pace.

When they tried an 80 limit on the Kansas Turnpike, which is only two lanes each way, many forecast it would lead to infinite slaughter. The reverse has been true. I personally never saw an accident on it and the rate is not high nor are the few accidents bad, none can be head-on, for one thing, and for another it's a case of heads up, eyes on road, for everybody.

You never see a lame old car in generally poor shape on that highway, due possibly to a stiff toll disliked by the frugal and also to knowledge that reasonable speed must be maintained.

THE FIGURES show that "rear-enders" have become the commonest form of accident, of course. But inattention is the commonest cause of rear-enders.

Inattention is the biggest single cause of car accidents generally, in my view. But so far, nobody has found a good way to enforce a law to make people wake up and stay waked up. It might have all sorts of benefits.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

There Appears To Be Some Areas Of Possible Agreement On Berlin

WASHINGTON—The shape of a Berlin settlement, which both sides can at least live with for a period, is slowly coming into focus.

There has been just enough "give" in Foreign Minister Gromyko's talks with Secretary Rusk and President Kennedy to suggest Soviet willingness to undertake serious negotiation.

To see the form such a settlement might take, it is necessary to get the answers to two questions:

What could the Soviets give to the West which would be reasonably satisfactory to us?

What could ge wive to the Soviets which could be reasonably satisfactory to them?

THESE ARE the questions which Rusk and the President have been exploring with Gromyko. While there yet is no solid basis of agreement, there is a potential and it seems likely that a Big-Four Foreign Ministers' conference will be forthcoming.

I believe that the United States would require:

1—An explicit undertaking by the Soviet Union to recognize and respect Western rights in West Berlin, including uninhibited air, land, rail and water access through East Germany. Such a new contract on the status of West Berlin would need to be signed by Rossia, Britain, France and the U. S. separately from and prior to any "peace" treaty the Soviet Union might make with East Germany.

2—IN ORDER TO reduce future irritants and misunderstanding in using all routes of access the United States would, I think, welcome United Nations inspectors at all check points.

Other than to rant against Western rights in Berlin, which we are not going to yield, Khrushchev has never stated clearly what he wants the West to do. But there are points which are negotiable and they could include these:

1—If the Soviets make a separate treaty with East Germany and incorporate in its full acceptance of Western rights in Berlin, we would probably be willing to deal with the East Germans, as agents of the Soviet Union in carrying out their part of the agreement.

2—IF, DESPITE their powerful nuclear weapons, the Soviets are fearful of future German military strength, there are several things which could be constructively negotiated. There could be a mutual non-aggression pact between the Warsaw powers and NATO. This would guarantee that no NATO power, including Germany, would use force to alter existing frontiers in return for a similar guarantee by the other side.

Also possible would be a guarantee that nuclear weapons on West German territory would remain exclusively in American hands.

We would not be prepared to leave West Berlin to the uncertain protection of the United Nations, but we would, I believe, welcome the presence of U.N. forces and U.N. agencies as symbolic evidence of West Berlin's status as a truly free city.

BANK OFFICIAL — James N. Crittenden of 15 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere, has been appointed an assistant cashier at administrative headquarters of Crocker-Anglo National Bank at 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Way Clear For Additions At Kent School

Kentfield School District trustees have been informed that the way is clear for financing additional classrooms at Kent School.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon told the board Monday night that increase in assessed valuation of property in the district makes possible the sale of an additional $177,955 in bonds from a $500,000 issue which was authorized by voters in 1959. The district had already sold $260,000 of the issue to reach its legal limit of bonded indebtedness prior to this year's assessments.

The board signed an easement agreement with the Tamalpais Women's Center allowing an exit from the center next to the Kent School and an entrance to the school.

The trustees heard repairs to the floors of Greenbrae School would cost $2,080. The repairs would consist of removing the asphalt tile, waterproofing and laying new tile. The board delayed action until December, declaring work could not begin until Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Billy Hart, graduate student at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, was hired as an afterschool recreation director at Kent School.

23 Appointed To Mill Valley Schools Group

Twenty-three persons have been named to advisory committees to the Mill Valley School District, Supt. G. Robert McConnell announced today.

Dr. William L. Clark, William Everts, Kenneth N. Nelson, Dr. K. H. Blacker, Mrs. Vincent Scotto, Mrs. William Canavan, Mrs. Sula Crowell and McConnell were named by the school board to the committee on policy development.

Mrs. William Yockey, Dr. William Hargraves, Arthur M. Sestak, Franklin M. Gordon, Mrs. Sydney Thomas, Clifford Badger, John Donhoff, Mrs. Robert Murphy, Mrs. John Binckley, Mrs. Edmund Gross, Edward Neumeier, Mrs. Anshall Nelson, Mrs. Frank Webber, Robert Petersen and Logan Miles were named to the committee on community relations.

State Calls For Bids

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state division of highways called for bids this week for construction of drainage facilities and resurfacing on portions of State Sign Route 1 between Stinson Beach and Bolinas Road. Bids will be opened in Sacramento Nov. 8, with $163,000 available.

Novato Asks Names For Park Commission

The Novato City Council last night issued an invitation to all persons interested in serving on the parks and recreation commission to submit their names to the council before its October 24 meeting.

At that time, the council will select the seven members to the commission, which was officially created last night with passage of a parks and recreation advisory commission ordinance.

The council granted permission for transfer of the Novato Cab Co. taxicab license to William Louis Warden, son of the owner of the Yellow Cab Co.

City Atty. Clark Palmer Jr. was instructed to prepare a revision of the section of the taxicab ordinance pertaining to transfer of license. The ordinance revision will call for a payment for the initial $25 fee for a transfer, but not the annual $100 fee.

Anderson Chevrolet Co., lower of two bidders, was given the $2,267.84 contract for a four-door sedan. Derwin Ford submitted the only other bid for $2,310.59.

After hearing an objection from the State Division of Highways to the city having angle parking on Highway 101, the council ordered the city attorney to prepare a resolution deleting that portion of the parking resolution.

In other action, the Novato council:

1. Authorized purchase of a $798.50 dictation system for the police department.
2. Approved change from residential to commercial zoning of land lying south of Grant Avenue, between Crocker-Anglo Bank and Highway 101, owned by John Pedranzini.
3. Rented office space for the public works department for $50 per month from the Western California Telephone Co. at its corporation yard.
4. Paid claims against the city for $12,610.16.

Yank Troops Arrive For Europe Duty

CHERBOURG, France (UPI)— Two thousand American soldiers arrived in Europe today

They were the vanguard of 40,000 troops President John F. Kennedy has ordered to Europe to beef up America's five battle-ready divisions.

Five hundred came ashore here, and another 1,500 went on to Germany.

The soldiers—first from America to land at Cherbourg since 1945—lined the rails as the Gray-painted transport eased slowly into the dock.

Maj. Gen. Henry R. Westphalinger, commanding general of the U.S. Army's Communications Zone in Europe, welcomed the troops.

"This troop shipment to Cherbourg is the beginning of a planned buildup of U.S. army strength in Western Europe," Westphalinger said. "They will be followed by other individual replacements as well as troop units designed to bring U.S. Army Forces in Europe to full strength."

U.S. Army spokesmen said today's arrival marked the reactivation of Cherbourg as a major port of entry for the U.S. Army in Europe to supplement Bremerhaven and La Rochelle, on the French Atlantic Coast.

1,000 American Soldiers Go On Alert In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — More than 1,000 American soldiers today took part in an alert designed to test the Army's defenses in this isolated western outpost.

Troops of the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry, rushed from Andress Barracks this morning in trucks and jeeps and took up battle positions in the U.S. Sector of Berlin.

One of three battle groups stationed here, it was sent to Berlin to reinforce the garrison after the Communists sealed off the East-West Berlin border.

An Army announcement described the alert as "a routine operational readiness test which is part of normal training."

Mrs. Bastian Quits Recreation Group

A former Belvedere recreation commission chairman, Mrs. Robert Bastian, last night resigned from the commission because of pressure of other activities.

Mrs. Bastian had served on the commission since its inception eight years ago. She lives at 19 Peninsula Road.

The commission reviewed plans for remodeling of the Belvedere community hall and discussed its plan for the 12th night Christmas tree burning ceremony.

Chairman E. Allen Steinau Jr. said a new site will have to be found for the burning because lawn has been planted in the former park site.

Californians Big Smokers

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Californians smoked about 48,380,000,000 cigarettes in the year ended last June 30, the Board of Equalization reported today.

That's about nine cigarettes a day for each man, woman and child in the state.

The tax of three cents a pack amounted to $67,954,981—up 8 per cent from the previous year.

The Declaration of Independence was among the official papers transported in a "light wagon" when Congress fled from Philadelphia to Baltimore in December, 1776.

Corporation Yard Study Unit Named For Novato

The Novato City Council last night named a committee to study three possible sites for a city corporation yard and report at a special meeting at 5 p.m. next Wednesday.

Councilmen Charles R. Johnson and John Angeloni were named to the committee.

Site one, owned by William Rudolff, is west of the railroad near the Pini Mills. This could be rented for $70 or $80 per month, or bought for $12,000, said City Administrator J.Julien Baget.

The second site is north of the North Marin Water district yard. The city could rent this property, with a building to be built to its specifications, for $125 to $150 per month on a five-year lease from owner Emil Renati.

The third proposal is to rent space in the corporation yard of Western California Telephone Co. at $75 per month. The city would erect its own temporary building on the site for $3,500.

There are more than 2,100 languages and dialects spoken in the world.

Youths Convicted In Battery Trial

Two Novato youths were convicted yesterday of battery and disturbing the peace in attacking J. D. Sumner, 27-year-old Petaluma bartender, at Burge's Drive-In at Ignacio last month.

Joseph Christian Gingher, 18, and Carl Brione Rivamonte, 18, both of Novato face a probation report and sentencing on Oct. 31. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court found the pair guilty after a two-day trial.

A third defendant, Paul Walsh, 20, of San Rafael was freed of both charges. The judge ruled that evidence was not sufficient to link Walsh with the disturbance.

Groundbreaking Ceremonies Held For Bel Marin Keys

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held yesterday for Bel Marin Keys, a lagoon-type residential development to be built north and east of Hamilton Air Force Base.

The way was cleared for the development by action of the Marin County Board of Supervisors last week in changing the assessment procedures on the project.

More than 80 people, representing buyers, sellers, engineers, public utilities, financiers and contractors, as well as members of the board of supervisors, attended the ribbon cutting-ground breaking ceremonies.

The first unit planned will cover 750 of the 2,200 acres ultimately planned in the project. It will necessitate moving two million cubic yards of dirt to create an eight-foot deep lagoon and lots in the 300-house unit.

The first unit will also contain an 18-hole golf club, a rod and gun club, a yacht club and community play areas. First houses are expected to be completed in 90 days, said Jack W. West, developer.

Is Land For Cows, People? Council Asked

Whether land across the street from the Novato Hospital should be used for apartments or chickens and cows was battled last night by the Novato City Council and B. D. Dobbs, assistant county planner.

Dobbs favored the chickens and cows. The council members favored the apartment house.

Jack and Beatrice Caristi appealed an Aug. 28 denial by the planning commission of permission to erect an 18-unit apartment house opposite Novato Hospital on Hill Road.

Councilman Charles R. Johnson said there is need for rental space within walking distance of the hospital.

Dobbs held that it was against the master plan, which shows that area in single family dwellings.

Councilman M. E Silva asked how the land was zoned now.

Dobbs said it was in limited agriculture.

Silva told Caristi he should build "a multiple dwelling chicken house" and add a cow —"that would be legal."

The council postponed action on appeal to Nov. 14.

'Public Guardian, Counsel Incompatible'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The jobs of county counsel and public guardian are incompatible and cannot be held simultaneously by the same man, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said yesterday.

The opinion came at the request of the Santa Cruz Board of Supervisors.

BERLIN PEN OF WOODEN WALLS

Valhalla Inn Sign Again Signed Off

Down and out but not down quite far enough is the neon sign of Sally Stanford (Mrs. Marsha Owen) which stood many years atop her Valhalla Inn at Second and Main Streets in Sausalito.

Miss Stanford's attorney, Richard Gladstein, told the Sausalito City Council last night that the neon sign had been removed from the roof Too, a sign on the wall of a nearby building calling attention to "Sunday brunch" is gone.

However, Gladstein declared, the council did not say sign could not be put some place else. So it was fastened lower down to a guard rail of another roof portion of the restaurant.

Despite Gladstein's plea the council voted 4-0, Councilman George Keeney absent, that the sign must be removed from its new location within 10 days.

Said Miss Stanford, blowing her nose with a small white handkerchief: "You want one cent out of every dollar I take in. I would like an opponent worth my sword and I don't like to fight with ignorance."

Kilts worn by the famous Evzones of Greece sometimes contain more than 40 yards of material.

UPTON SINCLAIR 'LUCKY'; HE'S MARRYIN' AGAIN

SAN BERNARDINO (AP) — "I think I'm a very lucky old man," says Pulitzer Prizewinning novelist Upton Sinclair, 83.

Sinclair, author of more than 70 books, and Mary Elizabeth Willis, 79, a widow, took out a marriage license yesterday. His first wife, Mary Craig Kimbrough Sinclair, died last April 26 at 78.

Sinclair said he and Mrs. Willis drove to San Bernardino for the license in an effort to avoid publicity.

"That shows you what duffers we are," he laughed. "We were very naive."

Strawberry Group Asks Road Action

Strawberry Property Owners Assn. directors agreed Monday night to ask the county board of supervisors for early action on widening the first portion of Tiburon Boulevard, saying "the area looks like a bombed-out or disaster area."

Work supposed to have started July 1 between Highway 101 and Bel Aire Shopping Center, has been held up because of disagreement as to placement of a drainage ditch, the board was told.

Directors postponed election of officers to Nov. 13 since there were not enough directors present.

Public Hearings Due On Sausalito Sign Law

Sausalito city councilmen last night gave their ideas on the proposed new sign ordinance and then referred it back to the planning commission.

Further public hearings will be held by the council, Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said, after the commission has studied the council's recommendations.

The council agreed to these points:

(1.) Signs should be for identification only, not advertising; (2.) they should be permitted in size in proportion to size of building; (3.) signs should prohibit product advertising; (4.) signs on trucks will be considered at another time; (5.) signs should not be required to be flat against the walls; (6.) flexibility in the ordinance should be allowed by some means such as a community advisory board; (7.) there should be no flashing lights; (8.) there should be a three-year abatement period for present violators; (9.) the same standards should apply for gasoline stations as for other businesses but it was recommended that one sandwich sign could be allowed for gasoline prices.

Sam Zakessian said the chamber of commerce recommends that size of signs be 10 per cent of the frontage of the building's face but not to exceed 75 square feet. Merchants north of the Village Fair with setbacks should be allowed a free-standing sign in addition to a sign on their buildings, he said. The chamber, Zakessian said, does not favor exhibiting the wares in signs and it believes signs should be allowed both flat and overhanging.

The council also:

1. Voted 4-0, Councilman George Keeney absent, to ask Golden Gate Bridge district directors for financial assistance to bring about a direct Marin auto access to Vista Point.

2. Awarded pool construction Co. of San Francisco the job of building a bus shelter at Bridgeway and Bay Street on its low bid of $4,790 for the shelter, with two alternate bids, $530 to construct a trellis and walk leading from the shelter and $150 for removal of the old bus shelter to a new location.

3. Approved warrants totaling $52,491.

Fall Classes Set At Junior Museum

Fall classes for children at Junior Museum of Marin will begin Saturday, director Murray Dailey announced today.

The schedule:

Adventures in science, 10 to 11 a.m., open to children of all ages, will feature a variety of scientific experiments.

"Survey of the Animal Kingdom," 11 a.m. to noon, for age 10 and up; discussions on protozoa, mammals, invertebrates, amphibians and reptiles.

Animal story hour, 1 to 1:45 p.m., ages 5 to 9.

Films on science, including biology, chemistry, physics and nature study, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Children may register at the museum at 76 Albert Park Lane, San Rafael. Classes are open to Junior Museum members free. There is a fee for non-members.

Sausalito Debating Parking Lot Vs. Park

Sausalito citizens had their say on the central waterfront plan last night before the city council and, in the main, came out in favor of a larger park or parking for the area adjoining Vina Del Mar Plaza, now a municipal parking lot.

The council continued the hearing to Oct. 24, although citizen Milton J. Kodmur urged it to "meet the challenge" and act at least on whether it prefers park or parking for the area adjoining Vina Del Mar Plaza, now a municipal parking lot.

The plan, drawn by a group of citizens more than a year ago, deals with circulation, location of civic buildings, and park and parking. A plan called the Finney plan, because it was drawn by Charles E. Finney, now a member of the planning commission, envisions the whole parking lot as an addition to Vina Del Mar Plaza. The planning commission has voted in favor of the Finney plan.

The citizens said this:

"I don't think we can provide parking for all the people coming to these burgeoning little businesses in Sausalito in a million years. We forgot about the people who live here . . . let's make it a comfortable town to live in and not encourage more and more little businesses." This was Mrs. Ben Chamberlain's advice.

Robert O'Leary suggested looking into putting in a parking area in the Caledonia Street area. Finney said that if the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property became available, it might be used for parking.

Artist Serge Trubach said: "With the sandspit we could have made a beautiful plaza—not two elephants and a palm tree . . . The way the town is going, we'll have a combination of San Rafael and Market Street."

Alexis Tellis said it is possible that people can park at the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station proposed to be in Marinship and that tourists could shuttle to Sausalito's shops by bus.

Neil Davis said: "A park is the only chance you have to contribute something to Sausalito. It would mean as much as the Golden Gate Park does to San Francisco or Central Park to New York."

Sally Stanford (Mrs. Marsha Owen) said: "How come the city leased the sandspit for $877 a year for all that parking land? It's so stupid." She was told that this had been done by a previous council.

City manager Charles A. Brown, in a parking report, said the merchants are now 555 parking spaces short of requirements.

The Malagasy Republic is a big producer of mica and graphite and it proposes to develop resources of gold, quartz and agate.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Poehlmanns To Entertain At Two October Dinner Parties

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The Otto Poehlmanns of San Anselmo are entertaining at two dinner parties the latter part of the month. Purpose of these is to have their friends become acquainted with their son, Paul Poehlmann and his wife. Paul married Genevieve Porter of San Francisco in June and they are residing in Stinson Beach.

Invited to the dinner Oct. 22 to meet the young Poehlmanns are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Furlong, Dr. and Mrs. Matthew Hazeltine, Judge and Mrs. Jordan L. Martinelli, Messrs. and Mesdames William Dawson, Roger Darrow, Samuel Gardiner, Lloyd Grandi, Harrison Leppo, Thomas D. Minto, Wallace Myers and the Forrest Browns, who are coming over from Oakland.

Guests at the dinner Oct. 28 to meet Paul and Genevieve will be Dr. and Mrs. Earle Young, Messrs. and Mesdames A. H. Dewees, E. R. McWilliams, Frank Schrader, Floyd Spence, Harvey Surratt, Richard Tissot, P. S. Harless. Also Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goldwasser (she is the former Mrs. Ansel Hoffman), Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts of Woodside, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrett Holland of Carmel, formerly of Sausalito, and the William Blakes and Herman Remenspergers of San Francisco.

EXCITED are Mr. and Mrs. T. Carson O'Connell of San Rafael over prospects for the house they plan to build on property they bought at Anchor Bay on the ocean, six miles north of Gualala. The house, where the O'Connells will go for vacations and weekends, is architect-designed and will be a substantial structure, not just a "summer place."

Carson's uncle, Robert Carson, and his wife who live in England recently completed their house on Margarita Drive, not far from the O'Connells' San Rafael home. Bob and his wife left the first of September for England after two months here furnishing the house and attending to last minute details. The Carsons, who have a home in Nottingham, plan to return every year to spend two months vacation at the San Rafael house.

A RECORD MAKING horseback ride was taken by a group of Marin County people, members of Region 1 of California State Horsemen's Assn. They made the ride to Stockton for the association's convention the hard way, avoiding the highways and skirting the bay. They rode about 150 miles and brought back the region's trophy for coming from the greatest distance. They returned Sunday, bringing the horses in trailers. In the Marin contingent were the William McCalls, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pierce and daughter, Pinky, Mrs. L. W. Waldon, Mrs. H. Hodge Davidson and Miss Ruth Dascomb. The women are members of the 4-M Mounted Patrol. The ride started in Santa Rosa and the group was escorted into Napa by the Napa County Horsemen's Assn. and had dinner and spent the night. At Fairfield the riders stayed at the Little League Park, and the third night they headquartered at Terminus near Rio Vista. They were escorted to the fairgrounds in Stockton where a magnificient horse show was held and the trophies awarded.

Breast Feeding Babies Helps Mothers To Rest, Watch Diet

Do you have a baby on the way? Are you going to nurse it yourself or use a bottle? Let's talk about breast feeding.

Most mothers now decide against nursing their babies. They choose to use a formula in a bottle—for several reasons. At first some babies have trouble nursing at their mothers' breasts. Nipples get sore. Mothers must worry about eating the proper foods and producing enough milk. Those who nurse must drink lots of liquids, or they'll be dehydrated. Bottle feeding seems simpler, to begin with.

But the advantages don't last. In a day or two even slow babies learn to nurse. Mothers' bodies adjust, as nature intends. They feel better quicker than the other mothers, because they watch their diets more closely. They get more rest than the mothers who use bottles. And they don't have to worry about sterilizers, formulas and other nuisances. When they leave home they can pick up their babies and go. That's a blessing.

I've been talking with a dozen mothers who stayed with breast feeding. They all were glad they did. Each one of them plans to breast feed her next baby. They say that the satisfaction of nursing is great. They're sure their babies are healthier and happier. They added that breast feeding had helped their figures, improving their measurements.

Think a long time before deciding. Talk with your doctor and if possible also talk with a psychologist or a psychiatrist. Remember that the first few months of your baby's life are the most important ones. Then give breast feeding a thorough trial. You won't be sorry, I promise.

Here's Ladylike Way To Belt The Short-Change Men

Many of us have felt like belting the manufacturer when the belt which came with a good dress fell apart after a few washings, cleanings or just wearings.

Now comes some advice on the subject from Herbert Novick, the president of the Belt Assn. of America.

Novick says that good belts are made that will outlast the garments they decorate or accessorize. If the belt doesn't match in quality the dress it circles, you're the victim of a "short change" route by the manufacturer, he said. The manufacturer has cut costs by using a cheaper belt.

Novick said the customer should go back to the store and report any "short - changing," because "this is the only way the dress buyer can be alerted that she is dealing with a 'skimper'."

"And if the manufacturer cheats a little in the belts, he can be expected to do the same in the fabric, the trimmings, the seams and the overall workmanship," said Novick. "The store and its buyer can learn only from you, and you'll find them grateful for pointing this out."

"Just remember," said Novick, "you have the right to expect a good belt on a good dress."

How Housework Can Aid Figure

Housework can be made to work toward a better figure for you, says a physical fitness expert.

But to get the most in proper exercise from household chores, revamp your work methods—"brush the cobwebs out of your habits," said Mrs. Bonnie Prudden, director of the Institute for Physical Fitness, White Plains, N.Y.

Mrs. Prudden cautions against expecting housework alone to keep you fit and beautiful. "But there are ways of making . . . routine pay off . . . ," she says.

TAKE STRETCHES

Making beds, for instance, "take huge stretches and reaches instead of comfortable, short ones," she advises. "I used to hate the mattress turning bit, but good as it may be for the mattress, it's a lot better for you. Every heavy thing you have to lift all your life is good for you, just as long as you are strong enough to do it.

"When objects slide under chairs, don't take the easy way and lift the chair out of the way," she continues. "Go under, after it. Sounds active and unnecessary, I know. But consider the actions of children. They use the floor, and the more practice in stooping and crawling, the younger your body will be."

Mrs. Prudden's thoughts on how housekeeping can aid the figure are contained in her new book, "How to Keep Slender and Fit After Thirty."

Mrs. Prudden, mother of two daughters, originally established her fitness institute at White Plains but now has franchised branches in various parts of the nation.

NOT FAT

"Bodies," she says, "were never meant to be fat, and that goes for any age." Her contention is that a reducing diet alone is not enough—the body needs the exercise to keep its tone.

Dusting even can be a figure aid.

She suggested that "when you dust, reach again. Plant your feet at one end of the piano and reach all the way to the other if you can. Only the young body stretches, and it stretches just as long as it is forced daily to stretch."

Even the mop handle can be turned into an exercise bar. When you lean down to slide the mop under the furniture, keep your back and knees straight, she suggested. After you've finished mopping, grab the handle in both hands and step through the space between your hands, first with one foot then the other. Then step back again. This keeps the back limber and strong.

Another mop exercise for waist and midriff slimming; place the mop handle back of your upper back and then twist as far as possible to the left. Keeping the feet wide apart and legs stiff, twist all the way to the right. Start with 20 twists and work up to 50.

Mrs. Prudden suggested these other ways to get added exercise from household chores: Wring clothes in a direction opposite to what you're used to occasionally—wringing helps to keep the arm muscles strong.

Explosion And A Meeting Hold Keys To Marin's Water

Today on the Feather River near Oroville, a dynamite explosion launched construction of the Oroville dam and in fact marked the beginning of the state's one billion, 750 million dollar water program voted by the electorate last November.

Tomorrow in Ukiah, the Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Association holds one of its regular meetings.

These two things both seem remote from Marin County, yet there is a vital connection.

Marin County can run out of water, although not in the immediate future. Nicasio dam, which should be connected in with the Marin Municipal Water District's system in the next week, will provide good water for the southern and central Marin for many years to come. Before the end of the year the North Marin Water District's pipeline to the Russian River will be in operation and the northern part of the county will be, to all intents and purposes, safe against water rationing.

But both areas must be thinking still farther ahead. These supplies are limited too. Nicasio lake can hold only so much water, and only a limited amount can flow down the Novato pipeline.

So right now decisions are looming as to from where the next supply of water will come.

The State Department of Water Resources has the North Bay Aqueduct as that source in the official state water plan. But the department has been slow in providing information that this is the best and cheapest source of water.

Meanwhile, with a million dollars available for two years or so to buy aqueduct rights of way, the state has dragged its feet in property purchases until the site of the terminal Novato reservoir is now occupied by a graveyard and subdivisions are beginning to straddle the canal route.

Meanwhile, the Eel River group has been trying to get the state and the federal government interested in studying the possibility of bringing Eel River water down as far as Marin through Clear Lake or the Russian River or in some other way.

Thus far the state has shown great reluctance to even collect data to compare with the North Bay Aqueduct. The Federal Bureau of Reclamation may be interested in making such a study, but is skittish about stepping on state toes.

So today's explosion near Oroville may be the start of a state water program which could mean little or nothing except taxes to Marin residents. While tomorrow's meeting in Ukiah might provide incentive for a further study of various water sources for Marin and lead to eventual permanent solution of our water problems.

Reflections On Columbus Day

If one had to single out the greatest single quality of character of the Genoese navigator whose discovery of America we celebrate today, it would undoubtedly be his dogged perseverance. Columbus was a bit of a fanatic about the idea of sailing west to Asia.

Many people in high places and with greater prestige tried to pass him off as an eccentric. He endured disappointments which would have completely discouraged lesser men—then pressed forward with his mad plan.

Every man has a crossroads in his life when he must do what he is certain is right or yield to the pressures around him.

At such times the example of Columbus is real encouragement.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Now Machines Have Gone Into The Business Of Matchmaking

NEW YORK (AP)—Marriages are supposed to be made in heaven, but a young psychologist here believes machine-made matings have a better chance of survival.

"They do as much as possible to eliminate chance," said Dr. Eric Riss, 32, who feels a scientific approach to marriage pays off in greater wedded bliss.

Dr. Riss, a Brooklyn College faculty member, is board chairman of Scientific Introduction Service, Inc., which puts his theories into practices—for a price.

"Sociologists have known for years the factors that go into making a happy marriage, but little was done about it," he said.

How does a scientific approach to marriage operate? Dr. Riss or his assistants submit each marital prospect to an exhaustive interview to find his likes and dislikes, family background, and goals in life.

About 70 personality traits are indexed on a card for each person. The cards are then run through an electronic sorter.

The machine acts as a preliminary, not a final matchmaker. It picks out the people who, according to scientific theory, have the best chances for a successful marriage.

They are then introduced—and it is up to them to decide whether the machine is a prophet, or merely a push-button mechanical busybody.

"We look for personality factors that complement each other as well as those that are alike," Dr. Riss said.

"People don't look for someone just like themselves, but for a partner who can fill their needs. For example, a man with a stern outlook on life might need and want a wife with a more relaxed nature."

Here are some of Dr. Riss' findings:

"Perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of people don't really need marriage. They don't have room for it in their lives. They are too much in love with their work, their hobbies—or themselves.

"Women are more concerned about character than appearance in men. They want a husband they can respect and who is brighter and more successful than themselves. This poses a very difficult problem for the very superior woman. Such men are hard to find.

"As for men, if a woman isn't physically attractive to them, they aren't particularly interested in her other values. They don't take the trouble to find out."

DOES THE system work?

Based on hundreds of cases since 1956, Dr. Riss claims:

"The divorce rate for the United States as a whole is one for every four marriages. There has been less than one divorce for every 500 marriages we have helped arrange on scientific principles.

"THIS IS NOT a cold method—but a real ally to romance. Those who fall in love do so head over heels."

Dr. Riss and his wife, a former medical social worker, have a young son. His card won't go into the marriage machine for some years.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Thanks Given For Refund

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Several weeks ago the county auditor's office of Marin County mailed out warrants totaling over $12,641 to a portion of the taxpayers in Tamalpais Valley.

Reason: The dissolution of a prematurely formed flood control assessment district which completely failed of its purpose.

The district was set up over two years ago (Fusselman sensibly dissenting) by the supposedly (in some quarters) "enlightened" supervisorial board at that time.

The taxpayers involved received a payment of about 73 per cent of the money originally contributed by them. Engineering and other costs necessary to the formation of an assessment district, account for some of the loss. Interest on recalled bonds, the remainder.

As far as can be ascertained, all this is quite without precedent in the State of California; so Marvelous Marin is still "marvelous!"

All the more reason to thank those concerned with the unraveling of the above district, and the disbursement of its remaining assets to the rightful owners.

On behalf of at least a segment of Tamalpais Valley taxpayers, the undersigned wishes to thank:

Attorney Eugene Sturgis and his firm for generously returning the fee correctly paid them for setting up the district—at the request of the Marin supervisors.

Generally County Auditor DeLisle, and specifically his assistant, Mr. Donaldson, who "pioneered" in a complex situation with ardor and acumen.

Lastly, the present Marin Board of Supervisors who took responsibility, heretofore neglected, for correcting an intolerable situation.

Let's Get Out Of Rapid Transit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is really amazing to read all this talk about a rapid transit system for Marin County. It is unbelievable to me that the property owner taxpayers of Marin County could be so foolish as to even consider mortgaging their property to the extent of some $200,000,000 for a bond issue for such a purpose.

It is admitted by the promoters of this fanciful idea that it would be 10 years before Marin County could benefit from any building on such a system, so if Marin County joins in this gigantic bond issue promotion of some $1,750,000,000, our share would be some $200,000,000 and if it is a 3½ per cent issue, Marin County property owners would pay some $70,000,000 in interest over this 10-year period—tax money down the drain for sure.

Furthermore, unless Marin County pulls out of this Bay Area transit deal immediately, you taxpayers could be stuck with this huge additional tax burden even though Marin County might vote against it—the other five counties could be crazy enough to pass the issue by a margin sufficient to overcome the Marin vote.

We already have thrown some $50,000 down the drain of taxpayers' funds for our share of plans, surveys and what have you — isn't that enough?

Marin County most surely does NOT need any rapid transit system now or in the foreseeable future for if our population were double what it is now and you were fortunate enough to persuade even one-third of the regular commuters to ride the rapid transit (and it is most certainly ridiculous to expect any greater number) it would turn out to be a terrific loser—it could not possibly pay off the interest and principal on this huge bond issue, the upkeep and maintenance, the insurance, the depreciation and the administrative costs.

Don't forget that Alameda County had a commute electric system, and a fairly good one too, covering all portions of the East Bay, with a railroad across the Oakland Bay Bridge and a nice terminal in San Francisco—and — they went broke, because the commuters, in numbers more than 10 times the commuters we could expect from Marin County, preferred to put up with any congestion on the Bay Bridge by auto travel and preferred to use their own autos—it would be the same thing over again with this great new scheme for replacing the defunct Key System with a new rapid transit system—new rights of way—new tracks, a new railway over the Bay Bridge and a new terminal location in S. F.

How in the world can the taxpayers over in Alameda County possibly be so gullible as to think this would pay—they will be left in the position of either subsidizing this transportation system with a huge additional bite of property taxes or they will have to go broke.

For our part over here in Marin County, surely you property owners will not be led so far astray by promotion propaganda of the highest type, by the way, as to fall for this fanciful scheme. Let's get out of the deal now and stay out and when the time does come that we need further enlargement of our transportation facilities to San Francisco, then at that time let us build another bridge across via Angel Island.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Mill Valley's Police Chief James McGowan announced that any car parked anywhere more than five days would be towed away. A city ordinance setting 72 hours as maximum for street parking was to be amended to 120 hours in conformity with state law.

20 YEARS AGO

An "anti-bus bloc" on the Mill Valley City Council was blocking payment for $65,495 worth of buses for a proposed municipal system to San Francisco. People favoring city buses started recall proceedings against two councilmen.

It's the most horrible junk I ever tasted."

A Milwaukee 4-year-old brought a wriggling worm home with him from playschool and deposited it on the dining room table. "What," demanded his horrified mother, "are you doing with that worm?"

"I met him on the lawn," explained the boy, "and thought I'd show him our house."

Young, Non-Athletic Girl Finds Physical Education Real Trial

A young friend with whom I was sharing a peanut butter sandwich while checking the action among the small-fry set, reports she is worried about making the honor roll at school.

It seems she is an above average student, pulling down As and Bs with comparative ease in such subjects as mathematics, language arts, science, English and social studies.

She is, however, flunking volleyball.

She also flunked baseball.

IT SEEMS HER physical education teacher, a brawny female built along the lines of the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, is a strict grader when it comes to the subject nearest and dearest to her heart.

In order to take home an A in her class, one must be able to swat the volleyball into painted squares, the grade decreasing with the number of squares that are missed.

My young friend, not an athlete by nature or temperament, feels elated when she manages to get the ball over the net. To ask her to hit a particular square is akin to asking me to take a 10-round decision over Archie Moore. In my condition, I could never go the distance.

BEING PERSONALLY apathetic toward any kind of motion other than by taxicab, I extend to her my warmest sympathy.

I have often wondered what course my life might have taken had it not been for one Mr. Jacobs, a gymnasium teacher who made my life miserable during the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

A former Olympic gym champion, Mr. Jacobs was a German by birth and a martinet by nature. I still sometimes awake in the dead of night, his guttural commands startling me out of a sound sleep.

"Vill-yumps!" he would shout during my performance on the parallel bars. "Down mit her hind end!"

Could I help it if I was constructed in a shape he esthetically disapproved?

It followed, as the night the day, that I regularly brought home an F in physical education, staying off the honor roll during my entire elementary school career.

MY LITTLE FRIEND has abandoned hope of beating the system when it comes to volleyball.

Baseball, she says, was a cinch to duck. She would merely volunteer for the outfield—then play so far out she could sneak off into the woods where she had secreted a copy of "Catcher In The Rye."

She explains she was never caught playing hookey from left field, her failing grade in the all-American sport having come from a low batting average and an extraordinarily high earned run average. No hits, no runs, errors aplenty.

Her teacher, she further informs me, adds insult to injury by requiring lengthy themes entitled, fetchingly, "How I Should Behave in Physical Education Class," whenever one is caught not paying attention or failing to touch third base.

I DID NOT KNOW there were two teachers left in the schools system who gave such idiotic assignments. The last one I encountered used to regularly assign my son the task of writing, 1,000 times, "I will play in my own play area," or some such nonsense.

His sister, mother and I all came down with writer's cramps during that horrible year, we having volunteered to serve his punishment so he could get to his homework.

As We Worry About The Neutrals, They Worry Less About Us

WASHINGTON—One of the ironic and dismaying developments in recent weeks is that, as the American government has become increasingly willing to cooperate with the neutral nations, the neutral nations have been showing themselves unwilling to cooperate with the U.S., even in matters of common interest.

President Eisenhower himself was giving up the Dulles idea that if a country wasn't ready to join an alliance, the U.S. would treat it as beyond the pale.

President Kennedy was moving further to lay this anti-neutralism entirely aside.

But look at what has happened:

THE SOVIET Union showed its contempt for neutralist opinion when it resumed nuclear tests in the atmosphere on the eve of the Belgrade conference. Most neutrals were only mildly reproachful. Incredibly they began appealing to the United States to hurry up and find some compromise acceptable to Russia.

But when President Kennedy in his U.N. speech suggested that self-determination is as applicable to Berlin and East Germany as to the Congo or Ghana, many of the neutrals privately called the President a "cold warrior." Evidently colonialism is something they would demand the West give up—but not the Soviet Union.

I ENCOUNTERED a barrage of this don't-offend-Russia and it's-always-fair-game-to-knock-the-West during a recent conference on tensions in economic revelopment at Oxford University. It was attended by numerous African and Asian leaders.

In one of the seminar discussions an effort was being made to define colonialism. Several of these "neutralist" spokesmen were determined to put into the record a definition of colonialism so narrow that only the West could be held guilty of colonial practice and only the West could be called upon to abandon it.

I am not fooling when I tell that they contended:

That colonialism meant something done by a nation only to overseas territory.

That it wasn't colonialism to repress the independence of a contiguous country.

That it wasn't colonialism if the repressors were of the same race; that is, if Chinese repressed Tibetans. That didn't count. If Russians repressed Czechs or Hungarians, that didn't count.

UNDOUBTEDLY, there is a thoroughly realistic explanation of this don't-offend-Russia but-blame-the-U.S. attitude on the part of the neutrals. They seem to be afraid of Russia, but not of the U.S.

The answer for the U.S. does not lie in adopting Soviet methods or tactics. But I do suggest that our over-riding duty is not to please the neutrals but do, for our part, what we deem best for the whole free world.

Marin Employment Agency Scores With Idea For Help In Emergency

Employers large and small in Marin County may find the problem of securing emergency and vacation office help less of a problem on the strength of an idea of Mrs. Erica Hansell of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Hansell, owner of the employment agencies bearing her name who first started her business in San Francisco in 1948 and has now spread to Los Angeles, Palo Alto, an affiliate in London and three offices in Marin, has opened her latest at 3030 Bridgeway, Sausalito, where "Marin Girl" temporary office is being introduced.

Skilled workers are being recruited among married women who are already experienced and wish short-term or partial employment. Brush-up training is being provided for them to take over jobs capably.

A feature of the service is that Hansell's provides the workers on a straight fee basis, pays them direct and takes care of all withholding and records, leaving the employer unencumbered with these details.

Transferred from Mill Valley to the Sausalito office is Mrs. Laurie Durant where she is assisted by Miss Kathleen McClimant, skilled in teaching. Now in the Mill Valley office is Mrs. Lorene Bresee.

PRE-INAUGURAL FLIGHT of Delta Air Lines from San Francisco to New Orleans and Atlanta last week hosted many Marin County residents.

Among those on the "California to Dixie" trip were: Supervisor W. R. Castro, Mrs. Margaret Holstrom, editor and publisher of San Francisco Town and Country Magazine, Miss June Herkner, transportation manager of Bechtel Corp., Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, Bert Morris of the Independent-Journal, David N. Plant, assistant managing director of the St. Francis Hotel, Paul Richards, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, and Carroll Snyker of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

Aboard, helping with the hosting was Marin resident R. D. Cade, district sales manager of Delta Air Lines.

FORD'S "middle of the road" cars, Fairlane and Fairlane 500, will be introduced on Nov. 2. They have a longer wheelbase than General Motors' Chevy IIs and the passenger compartment is larger than the 1959 Ford.

Designed to provide driving comfort and utility with low vehicle maintenance, Fairlane has many of the features of the more costly Ford Galaxie — 30,000-mile chassis lube and fuel filter, 6,000-mile oil change and self-adjusting brakes.

Two engines are available: A standard 6-cylinder and a new "thin wall" cast iron V-8. The latter produces 145 horsepower but is 100 pounds lighter than the original Ford V-8 introduced in 1932.

Four "torque boxes" attached to the underbody insulate the passenger compartment from direct contact with the suspension system and serve to dissipate some road shock by their twisting action.

Marin County dealers who will display the cars are Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, L. J. Dervin Ford Co., Novato, and J and B Ford Sales that took over Tamalpais Motor Sales in Mill Valley.

Christmas Tree Farm To Start In County

A new Marin County industry that may turn out to be the largest of its kind in California is Christmas Reyes Tree Farm, a long-range project for the growth and sale of "live" Christmas trees at Inverness.

The business is headed by Howard A. Collins, a co-owner of Twin Cities Lumber Co., San Rafael, who named as his associates in the venture S. R. Farley of Greenbrae, M. R. Dolson of San Francisco, J. W. Hunter and John Cameron of Beverly Hills, and Ted Talbott of Pebble Beach.

Collins said the group has purchased 100 acres of the Leland Murphy Ranch between Inverness and the Point Reyes Lighthouse and has an option on an additional 150 acres. It proposes to plant between 36,000 and 38,000 Scotch pine, redwood and silver tip trees this fall and winter on 30 acres of the property, with further plantings each year on other sections. The first crop of trees will not be harvested until 1966, when the organization will start selling them at both wholesale and retail.

"The soil is excelent — in fact, almost too good," said Collins, who spent three years in the Forest Service before going into the lumber business. "It may result in accelerated growth, making it necessary to hand-prune the trees."

He said plantings and harvesting will be rotated on 40-acre sections in line with the government's advocated policy of controlled growth and conservation. The first crop in 1966 is expected to provide 40,000 trees for the market.

The property is located on the extreme western portion of the Murphy ranch, about three miles from the Inverness-Point Reyes Lighthouse Road.

Toll Group Plans Survey On Bridge

A state survey to disclose points of origin and destinations of travelers over the Golden Gate Bridge will start at 12:01 a.m., Oct. 19, continuing to midnight Oct. 23.

This is to be one of a series of investigations by the California Division of San Francisco Bay Toll Crossings. Similar survey will later be made on the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

Every motorist during the period of the survey will be handed a postcard, on which he will be asked to indicate whence he has come and his point of destination.

The survey will be to gather information useful in determining where the next bay bridge should be built.

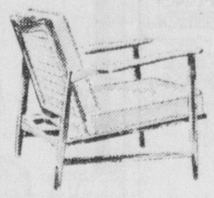

Naval Reservists Get Active Duty

Five Marin County Naval Reservists have been assigned to active duty for one year at the Naval Air Station at Alameda.

They are Lt. Walter A. Wellinger Jr. of 1 Una Way, Mill Valley; Lt. Stephen P. Reinertsen of 68 Millay Place, Mill Valley; second class petty officer Charles Harper of 523 Pineo Avenue, Mill Valley; Airman R. D. Aikins of 67 Murray Avenue, Larkspur; and Airman Milton C. Holloway of 224 Union Street, San Rafael.

The five are attached to Patrol Squadron VP-872, one of 18 reserve units reactivated by the President because of the Berlin crisis. They will remain on active duty until October, 1962.

NEWS REPORT

We are a non-profit, non-political association dedicated to inform voters and oppose all unlawful, unjust, unnecessary and excessive taxation as well as to endorse and recommend sound spending policies to prevent inflation. Our members volunteer their time. No one receives any remuneration. At present we are—

1. Waging a campaign to persuade the legislature to act under authorization granted them in 1938-39 to pass a law to limit tax levies on real and personal property to not more than 25% of the total tax levy. We advocate a change in the tax structure and are exploring a gross transaction tax, which could save all property taxpayers a minimum of 30%. There MUST be a more equitable method than the present high discriminatory property tax.

2. Pursuing a suit against the partial county appraisal system, which should come to trial soon. We feel sure the courts will take a dim view of forcing taxpayers in one area of the county to pay taxes on an increased assessment three years before another area and unequal taxes in the same school district.

3. Appealing a local Superior Court decision on refund of taxes because of the 26% increase by the State Board of Equalization in 1955. The court held this order was illegal but gave an adverse ruling.

4. Attempting to bring facts and figures to the public to combat psychopolitics, to engineer public consent to many unnecessary and excessive spending programs. In the past few years we have opposed and recommended the defeat of—

1. A bond issue for an addition at Marin General Hospital. Because of the defeat, private donations have solved the problem without added taxes.

2. The San Quentin Airport Bonds—the County Airport at Novato is being developed without a tax levy and interest costs.

3. Three bond issues for an indigent hospital in Lucas Valley. $2,250,000 was an excessive amount. Present buildings are of good construction. We hope present plans will do any needed work more economically.

4. Low rent housing projects for people with low income. A defeat of a socialistic program, which most low income citizens opposed. They prefer living in their own homes without confiscatory taxes rather than accepting charity.

5. Fluoridation of Marin County's Pure Water could have been a costly bureaucracy, as well as violating individual rights by forced medication.

6. Numerous School Bond Issues. Schools spend more money than all real and personal property taxes collected in Marin County. The balance is so-called State and Federal funds. This money has been taken away from the taxpayers and a small part of it returned.

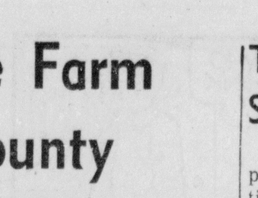

7. Bonds for a Civic Center which were defeated by approximately a 3 to 1 margin. Levying taxes to build a Civic Center after the bonds were defeated was not representative government and would have been a valid reason for a recall. The people chose to be fair and remove the leader of the Civic Center project at the next regular election instead of an expensive special election. In our opinion the present recall is being agitated by minority splinter groups and just poor sports, whose favorite was not re-elected.

All taxpayers should join The Marin County Taxpayers Association and help to protect your interests. These issues are for your welfare as well as for our members. The cost for an associate membership is $2.00 per person, for a year. Join us and do your part. Contributions to carry on this work also gratefully accepted.

Today is Thursday, Oct. 12, the 285th day of the year with 80 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1870, Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee died in Lexington, Va.

In 1920, construction began on the twin tunnels under the Hudson River, linking New York City and Jersey City, N.J.

In 1950, the Senate subcommittee to investigate interstate crime began hearings in New York City under the chairmanship of Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.)

A thought for today: German philosopher Arthur Schopenhaur said: "There is no absurdity so palpable but that it may be firmly planted in the human head if you only begin to inculcate it before the age of five, by constantly repeating it with an air of great solemnity."

West opens the king of diamonds, and you must let him hold the trick. This costs nothing, since you are sure to lose a diamond trick sooner or later.

West leads a low diamond next, and you win with the ace. Now you must tackle the trumps by taking dummy's king and then finessing through East for the queen.

As it happens, this finesse works. You draw the last trump and run the clubs to discard a spade from dummy. You lose only one spade and one diamond, making your contract with an overtrick.

The plan was to keep East from winning a trick because you could not afford to let East lead a spade through your king.

CONTRACT SAFE: You were lucky to find the queen of hearts in the East hand, but your contract was safe even if West had the queen of hearts. He would win a trump trick if he had the queen, but he could do no damage by leading spades. You would lose only one spade, one trump and one diamond.

Why was it necessary to let West win the first diamond trick? Imagine that you won the first diamond in dummy and then tried a trump finesse, and that West had the queen of hearts. He would lead a low diamond to East, and then East would lead a spade through your king.

By refusing the first diamond trick you give the sure diamond loser to the safe opponent rather than to the dangerous opponent.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. Show a major suit at the level of one rather than raise a minor suit. If there is an intervening spade bid, however, you must raise to two clubs since a bid of two hearts would show a better heart suit and a stronger hand.

DIFFERENT

A really unusual home for different people! No eating space in the kitchen here—you either eat standing up or else on the plush carpet in a huge beamed ceiling living room. You don't have a family room because the space was used by a long wide picture gallery hallway. You have to hike 83 feet from one end of the house to the other, and before you even get to this secluded paradise of non-conformity you have to drive up a big hill after coming all the way to Sleepy Hollow, which is too far to commute anyway. Oh! yes, the builder made such conventional mistakes as 3 bedrooms and 2 baths, also stuck in a SWIMMING POOL square on one end and round on the other, but large enough to get wet in. Name your terms. Excellent financing. $29,950.

Former President Eisenhower Opens Up In Chat On CBS Show

"I think our courses in civics should be buttressed by getting public figures to tell about their experiences and their beliefs and convictions in the political world," former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told the nation's educators last week in a closed circuit broadcast.

Practicing what he preaches, General Eisenhower will appear on television tonight to talk candidly about the powerful office that he held for eight years.

The "CBS Reports" program to be seen at 10 o'clock on KPIX is the first of a series of three "Eisenhower on the Presidency" shows filmed by the Columbia Broadcasting System for showing this season. The programs were filmed late last spring over a five-day period at the Eisenhower office and home in Gettysburg. In charge was Fred W. Friendly, well known for the brilliant documentaries he made in association with Edward R. Murrow.

In the "CBS Reports" series, Eisenhower discusses with the network's Walter Cronkite the aims, trials, triumphs and personalities of his administration. More generally, he analyzes the presidency as an office and reveals plans he once held for reorganizing that office.

Producer Edward Magruder Jones reports that the former president spoke easily and informally to Cronkite — "as though the cameras weren't there."

The filming, incidentally, was originally undertaken as a historical document for the archives of the Eisenhower Museum in Abilene, Kan., and the work was well under way before it became definite that the film would be shown on television.

ALSO TONIGHT: One of the last of the new fall series to check in, "Margie," a frothy situation comedy show set in the 1920s with Cynthia Pepper in the teen-age title role, will be seen at 9:30 on KGO.

And the "PM West" program on KPIX at 12:15 a.m. will be devoted to a study of Ernest Hemingway. Among those appearing will be the late author's eldest son, Jack Hemingway; his widow, Mary Hemingway, via telephone; and his good friend, A. E. Hotchner.

AS FOR tomorrow: "The Telephone Hour" at 9:30 on KRON will offer a "Salute to Autumn" with Gordon and Sheila MacRae, Noel Coward, the Brothers Four, Jan Peerce, Gianna d'Angelo, Jule Styne and ballet's Carla Fracci and Jacques d'Amboise.

For the unusual, Jonathan Winters will undertake a serious role in the "Twilight Zone" presentation of "A Game of Pool" on KPIX at 10.

And more of the unusual, Frank McGee on his "Here and Now" show on KRON at 10:30 will probe into voodoo and superstition as they still exist in some parts of the United States.
